Those special memories of you will always bring a smile
If I only could have you back for just a little while
Then we could sit and talk again just like we used to do
You always meant so much and alway will do
The fact that you're no longer here will always cause pain
But you are foreve in our hearts
Until we meet again Mama

Ajo Elementary School kids from Mrs. Halverson's and Mrs. English's class visited John Byrnes Byrnes' Christmas Village display on Friday, December 21. Gabriel Camarillo, Hector Rubio, Aleynad Jimenez, and Shattana Moriega observed the trains as they passed by. In addition to the students, another 76 people visited his display this year.

The Ajo Christian Academy, The River Church, and the Ajo Calvary Baptist Church teamed up recently to donate more than 20 gift boxes for Operation Christmas Child, a project of Samaritan's Purse Ministry that provides gifts to children in impoverished communities around the world. The ministry is delivering about 100 million gift boxes this year. Doing their part are, in front, Larry Ortega, Rhea Ortiz, Elle Kesler, Kate Laymon, Logan Canon; in the middle, Devin Culver, Mia Culver, Delainey Kesler, Jillian Behare, Katrina Fuller, Wyatt Sharpe; and in back Anabel Blount, Zamantha Robles, Giana Vega, Joshua Hood, Bryant Kesler, Esai Robles, and Amaia Moreno. Not pictured are Asher and Gilon Kraft.

"The kids at Ajo Christian Academy were thrilled to go shopping and help provide items such as small toys, toothbrushes, and warm socks to other children across the globe," said ACA teacher Jaime Kesler.

Santa's first stop on Christmas Eve will be in Ajo for Plaza festivities

Santa Claus is looking forward to stopping in Ajo on Christmas Eve, according to his public relations officer, Tom D. Elf, who has made arrangements for Santa's visit through the Ajo Rotary Club with some help from the Ajo/Gibson Volunteer Fire Department and the Pima County Sheriff's Department.

People are expected to begin gathering in the Plaza about sunset on Monday, December 24, to visit with friends and wait for Santa to appear in the belfry of Curley School soon after it gets dark. From the school, he will make the short trip to the Plaza in the sleigh he has kept in Ajo for generations.

"All the reindeer are sorry they can't come, but they're busy getting the real sleigh ready," said Jim B. Elf, noting that Prancer thinks the reindeer on the float looks just like him.

After officially starting the Plaza festivities with a magical wave of his hand, Santa will take time to talk to children. Elf warns, however, that Santa may not be able to fulfill last minute wishes, or any extravagant ones. "Santa has lots of children on his list, and even he can't afford to get children everything they want," said Elf.

In addition to the visit with Santa, youngsters may go through the traditional treat line where the Ajo Rotary Club and Ajo High School student council will be passing out gifts.

Patti Summers was graduated from Chatham University, College of Continuing and Professional Studies, on Sunday, December 16, in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, with a doctorate in nursing practice, an advanced degree in addition to her nurse practitioner degree.

The DNP is a clinical practice degree focusing on the application of research already available. The goal is to apply evidence-based practice to patient populations to improve the health of the nation. The focus of her capstone (dissertation) was the education of primary-care providers in the medications and implementation strategies for congestive heart failure patients.

Summers, who practiced at Desert Senita Community Health Center for several years, will be continuing her work at the Portland Veterans Administration Medical Center.

Audrey Anne Canon was commissioned as Second Lieutenant in the United States Air Force through Officer Training School at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Alabama, on December 14, 2012.

Canon enlisted in the Air Force in 2007 and was educated as a Korean linguist at the Defense Language Institute in Monterey, California.

In August 2012, she was graduated from the University of Utah with a degree in Asian culture and Korean.

Canon is the daughter of Dr. Stephen K. Canon and Jane Canon, the mother of Logan Canon, and the granddaughter of the late June Coker.

About the front

This year's Christmas cover is by Ajo Copper News artist Hop David.

The Copper News often tries to do Christmas covers with some connection to Ajo. In this image the manger roof corresponds to the Curley School and other buildings along Esperanza and Vananda. The windows correspond to the Federated and Catholic churches. The baby Jesus' cradle corresponds to the bandstand in Ajo's Plaza.

"If readers squint their eyes, I'm hoping they can make out downtown Ajo," said David.

What's his name?

Clement C. Moore defined the image of Santa Claus in 1823 in his poem A Visit from St. Nicholas.

St. Nicholas was a real person, a fourth century bishop of Myra. who did good deeds. Legend took over and he has become the popular Santa Claus.

Christmas Day potluck will be at VFW Post

Everyone is invited to a potluck Christmas Day dinner on Tuesday at 1 p.m. at VFW Post 3578 at 1764 N. Second Avenue.

"Bring your plate & silverware and a dish to share," said organizers. "The posts and auxiliaries will furnish the turkey and ham. It's a good day to visit with neighbors and give thanks for everything. We hope all of you who do not have family will come and join us and our families."

Santa's boom may scare dogs

While the arrival of Santa Claus in the Plaza is the source of joy for the people gathered to welcome him, the boom that signals his arrival is almost as terrifying to dogs and cats as the 4th of July.

Almost every year, dogs left in yards or kept on loose leashes bolt in fear.

To keep the holidays from becoming tragic, pet owners are advised to keep their pets inside, especially if they plan to be part of the Plaza revels on Christmas Eve.

K.J. is a 1-year-old, neutered, male lab-chow mix. The red dog is housebroken and great with kids. He can be seen at the Pima Animal Care Center by calling 387-7502.

Stella Krznarich and Lupe Ownby worked meticulously on their bark paintings Wednesday, December 19, at the library. Bark painting was a part of the program Nuestras Raices, which is a celebration of Mexican-American authors, arts, and culture. Artists used bright colors to paint scenes from everyday life like animals and nature on paper made from bark.

GED exam is getting tougher, people advised to test soon

"The GED test will change in 2014. It will be much more challenging and require more computer skills and deeper knowledge of specific subject areas," said Bridget & Tomas Kalmar, co-directors of the local GED program.

"If you have passed some of the five subjects on the current test, but not all, you are strongly encouraged to finish before the new test is released," they said. People must pass all five subjects and receive their GED before January 2014.

If they do not, they will be required to re-take the entire GED test in its new, more difficult form, the Kalmars added.

After the change, GED testing services will not recognize the parts of the test that an individual has already passed. Until then, testers must pass all five subjects and receive their GED before December 31, 2013.

The official current GED test will come to Ajo three more times before the big change. It will be offered here on January 24 and 25, again in May, and for the last time in its current form in November. "If you are ready to test in January you can register now at the Ajo Works Office," said the Kalmars. Registration closes on January 16 at 4 p.m.

"If you are not sure you are ready, find out by coming in to take a pre-test," they said. Pre-testing will be offered Tuesday and Thursday evenings, January 3, 8, 10, & 15, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the ISDA Community Learning Center (formerly the Cafeteria Gallery).

The Kalmars say ISDA is committed to helping people receive their GED and offers small group instruction, guided practice on the computer, and distance learning to meet all students' needs.

To make a plan for success, call Ajo Works at 387-3570, Tomas Kalmar at 307-7389, or stop by the Community Learning Center at 401 W. Esperanza Avenue between 12 noon and 3 p.m. on weekdays.

ISDA seeks volunteers for tax preparation

The IRS promotes and monitors a program providing free income tax preparation assistance to households with incomes under $50,000, according to Liz Yon, site coordinator for the International Sonoran Desert Alliance's program. "We are still looking for a few volunteers to help with this program," she said.

In Ajo, volunteers organized by ISDA will offer free tax preparation service. "We have a good time helping people out with their tax forms," Yon added. "We help families get the tax credits they have earned but might not figure out without help."

Volunteers should have good communication skills and computer skills with attention to detail. The volunteers will attend about ten hours of training in Ajo during the first part of January and then help out once or twice a week, sometimes on Saturday mornings, for a few hours during the tax season.

More information is available by calling ISDA at 387-3570.

The annual Angel Wish Tree is again coming through for some children who might not have received gifts.

Kord Klinefelter, left, donated new bikes to the PCNRPR Angel Wish Tree participants. "Kord has been donating bikes for several years and we appreciate his generosity," said recreation leader Lucila Malvido of Pima County Natural Resources, Parks & Recreation. "He always comes through for us." Border Patrol agent Kelly Graham picked some angel tags and distributed them among the Ajo Border Patrol agents. Last Friday's reception marked the opening of the first show – "Hang it again, Sam" - in the new Plaza Gallery on the southeast corner of the Ajo Plaza. The gallery is in the hall space next to the International Sonoran Desert Alliance's Art Stop/Print Shop.

Dar Ruef, Tracy Taft, Regina Browne, and Bill Perry gathered around a table in the new Plaza Management office during ISDA's open house for their four new locations last week.

The old Curley School cafeteria, once the site of an art gallery, is now the Community Learning Center for GED classes as well as offices for accounting and media. Ajo Works, located in the small white building at 421 Taladro southeast of the Plaza, is the "go to" location to register for all of ISDA's programs. The Print Shop & Art Stop are now in the south building of the Plaza closest to the Depot. The Plaza Management has a new office in the Plaza, to the right of the library.

The Ajo Community Garden Consortium and the Get Going, Get Growing garden apprenticeship program joined forces last Saturday in the Curley School's Orilla site to plant beds for harvest by ACGC members. From left are Wayne Davis, Michele Ostiguy and her adventurous son Urtzi, Sylvia Tatman-Burruss, Kathleen Stevens, and Miriam Fitts. In addition to the member harvest, the group is working out details to donate produce to the local food pantry.

"I'm brand-new to the group but Kat gave me the encouragement and the education to get started," said Ostiguy. "The most important thing I learned is to just jump in. I wanted to get Urtzi out here to get comfortable with a garden environment. Plus, I want to learn to be more self-sufficient, and at the same time gardening is good for one's health!"

The consortium has monthly meetings open to the public, usually the first Tuesday of each month at the public library. Meeting times are posted in the weekly library schedule in the Ajo Copper News. Stevens may also be called at 510-325-6293 for more information.

A winter solstice garden party was held on Saturday at the Dolce garden site on McKinley for members and friends of the Ajo Center for Sustainable Agriculture. Pulling back a frost cover are Mara & Beatrice Branson, Linda Brice, Christine Johnson, Teri Ryan, Anna Plant, and Peter & Nina Altshul. Others came and went throughout the morning.

Along with vegetable-share distribution, the group discussed succession planting techniques, and holiday garden lore, and related humorous gardening anecdotes. To learn more about the group, e-mail ajocsa@hotmail.com online.

Silvia Howard (shown above) and Vivian Sartori, members of the Ajo Wildlife Habitat Team recently set more plants in the planter box at Triangle Park. "These plants replace those that died over the long hot summer and they complete our planting project in this park," according to Sartori. The planter box is a Certified Wildlife Habitat Garden. Wildlife habitat supporters are nearing goal

Over the last 4½ years, a dedicated group of people have been working hard to make Ajo a Certified Wildlife Habitat Community. The project began in August 2008, as a community outreach program of Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument in cooperation with the National Wildlife Federation (the sponsoring organization), ISDA, Ajo Chamber of Commerce, Ajo Library, and others. Since last May, the team has quietly been about its work, including encouraging three more community gardens and Ajo Elementary School to certify their wildlife habit gardens.

"This is a big project and we could not do it without the help of those who enjoy our local wildlife, enjoy gardening, and have worked to certify their properties," said wildlife habitat leader Vivian Sartori. "Each property is gardened sustainably, has a water source for wildlife, and features native and naturalized plants that provide food, shelter and places for wildlife to raise young." Each residential certified habitat is worth 1 point, a commercial property, park, or community garden 3 points, and the school 5 points.

"For a community the size of Ajo, we have achieved our required total of 100 points in wildlife habitats. Other projects, for a total of 150 points, involve work accomplished by the Wildlife Habitat Team. We have only a few more points to earn, and we will have those by January 1. When the community achieves certification, we will make history. Ajo will be the second Certified Wildlife Habitat Community in Arizona. The other is a planned community in Tucson. We anticipate receiving notification sometime in January," said Sartori, who may be contacted at 387-5178 for more project information.

Red Raiders add win to season

By Robert Sorrels

The Red Raider basketball team won its first game of the season.

Ajo 60, San Pasqual 56

Tuesday night in Winterhaven, CA, the Raiders broke a long losing streak with a well-played victory over the Warriors. Ajo opened with the best 1st quarter of the season, leading 15-11. Felix Corona was hot pouring in 8 points including a pair of 3's. The 2nd continued as Billy Glass found he could exploit the Warriors' big man in the paint, scoring 5. Charlie Tapp had a pair of nice shots. Good offense coupled with a tight defense that limited San Pasqual to 7 gave Ajo a 30-18 lead at the half.

San Pasqual's leaders came out hot in the 3rd with 15 points between them as they narrowed the Ajo lead to 44-35. Glass continued to work under the basket adding 6. Darren Rendon and Josiah Nez dropped 3s to keep the Warriors' zone fluid.

The 4th quarter provided a wild finish as the Warriors guards went all out scoring 19 points between them. (They had 50 of San Pasqual's 56 points.) Ajo held off the charge as Glass scored 8 and Rendon made a pair of key shots on excellent moves in close. (If he would really concentrate, Rendon could develop into an excellent small forward.) Nez playing consistently throughout the game dropped a dagger-like 3 to preserve the win as the Warriors' leading scorer fouled out with a minute left.

Glass led Ajo with 21 marking his second consecutive excellent game. Nez and Corona each had 13 as they, too, continue to play well. The shooting foul disparity was extreme as San Pasqual made 13 of 22 at the line while Ajo went 2 of 6.

With a win under their belts, the Raiders now prepare for the Salt River Shoot-out at the end of the month when they will play 6 games in two days. Knowing one can win is essential to success. The Raiders now know they can win.

Lady Raiders have improved

By Robert Sorrels

The Lady Raiders played an excellent 1st half against San Pasqual, but lost the third quarter and the game.

San Pasqual 55, Ajo 26

On the road against the Warriors, Ajo was competitive in the 1st quarter, trailing 8-7. Jasmine Macias led with 4 points. In the 2nd, the Warriors upped the tempo as their big front line began to push the smaller Raiders around. Still, helped by Mariah Gilmartin's 6 points, Ajo was only down 18-15 at the half.

After the break, the Warrior big three (They are led by three athletic girls, each over 6'.) broke loose, pouring in 20 points to build a 38-21 lead. San Pasqual pressed hard and the inexperienced Raiders couldn't adapt. Most of the Warrior points came on steals and lay-ups. Ivana Arizqueta made a beautiful move to the basket and Lindsey Leon and Macias had the rest of the Raiders' scoring.

Trailing - against a clearly stronger team - by nearly 20 points in the 4th, Coach Brad Harvey put in his younger players so they could gain experience. The Warrior coach responded by returning her starters and having them press, running up the score with 17 more points.

Both Ajo coaches were outraged by the move. The normally unflappable Harvey noted, "This is BS! They clearly have an excellent team and had the game well in hand. I'm not sure just what sort of sportsmanship San Pasqual is trying to teach, but this isn't how it's done."

Gilmartin's 9 points, including a pair of 3s, led Ajo. Gilmartin continues to fire away from beyond the arc with a low success rate. Macias, in a good all around effort, finished with 8, and Leon, who has been spectacular on defense but quieter on offense this season. had 7. The Lady Raiders are off till January 8 when they play Eloy in Ajo.

Ajo Community Golf Course GOLF

by Liz Baca

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to my favorite pearl diver (you know who you are), to all of our regular hardcore golfers; to Ajo's Winter residents, and to our hardworking volunteers on the fairways, in the pro shop, and kitchen, and all of the fun Ajo locals who enjoyed meals and holiday celebrations at the golf course; we wish everyone in the community good health, happiness, joy and peace this holiday season!

Despite a little nip in the air last week, we had a good golfer turnout, some even wearing shorts on brisk mornings, and here are the results from our weekly events beginning last Monday, December 17, with the Men's Skins game. In that round, Tony McGarry made a skin on hole 2; Marty McCrystal got lucky on holes 5 and 9; and Dick Gates made a skin on #6.

Golf is a game in which you yell "fore," shoot six, and write down five. Which brings me to the Men's Club results last Tuesday! Greg Burton took first place with his score of 68; Paul Barnhart and Bill Conley tied for second place with their score of 70, with Barnhart prevailing on the handicap tie-breaker.

Six couples were a little chilly but in good spirits after their round during couples play on a windy Wednesday. Paul Barnhart had a good day Wednesday as well when he and Trudy clicked together to take first place with a 30.2. Frank Milene and Carol Peek shot a 31 for second place, and Bill and Paula Doremus had a 31.8 to capture third.

In last Friday's Pro-Am Scramble, golfers took on the front nine and two teams tied at two-under to place. George and Norma had to count to the 4th playoff hole to break the tie. In second place was the team of Captain Greg Burton, Bob Glowdowski, Bill Parker and Patty Taylor. Captain Dick Gates led his teammates Frank Milene, Elaine Murray and Dave Martin to a first place victory.

Ajo Community Golf is open to the public 7 days a week; for more information about the course & facilities ajogolf.com or call 387-5011. Happy Holidays everyone!

Christmas was celebrated in fine style by the members and guests of Xi Gamma Pi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi on Wednesday, December 19, at the home of Patti Bush, reports Diane Schumacher.

"Seeing Patti's creativity and wonderful decorating sense was a true Christmas treat," said Luisa Williams. Members surveyed the home and enjoyed the many decorative touches finding inspiration from Patti's eclectic use of antiques and contemporary materials.

"Although member Peggy Cole was unable to be present, her daughter Audrey shared Peggy's plans with the group," said Schumacher.

A light supper was creatively served by the hostess and Jeannie Morago to the delighted guests. The social evening included a 'pirate' gift exchange which led to teasing and laughter. The exchange encouraged sisters to share memories of Christmases in the past and plans for the future."

"Patti has exquisite taste both in decorating and in entertaining," said Nancy Richeson, a sentiment shared by all.

The group's next regular meeting will be January 9 at the home of Luisa Williams.

A Christmas Tale

'Twas the night before Christmas and everybody was sleeping,
Even I was worn out by the hours I'd been keeping.

I had barely dozed of when I heard the phone ring,
Santa was calling. "I've broken something."

I said, "Calm down, Santa, now where are you at."
"Just this side of Tucson, and my sleigh it stopped flat."

I said, "Now don't worry 'cause I'm on my way
In a tow truck to bring you to my service bay.

In just a short time I'll have your sleigh going."
He said, "I'm not worried, I've my own way of knowing.

But how will you fix it, there's no parts to be had?"
"I got a key to the NAPA, it belongs to my dad."

In just a short time I figured it out,
The sleigh runners were rusty, of that there's no doubt.

"Let me get some grease that will fix that for good,
And would you mind if I look in under the hood?

I'd like to replace that beat up old hose,
And put a new bulb in old Rudolph's nose."

He said, "Hurry up, now, I've a schedule to keep!"
I was doing my best on his tired old heap.

Well, we fired it up, and test drove up a hill,
He said, "Please lad, send Mrs. Claus the tow bill."

I said, "No charge on this, you just keep making toys,
And give them to all the little girls and boys.

Now hurry up, Santa, there's no need to stay."
And with a chuckle and a wink he was off on his way.
