Ajo's Desert Sharks went for the gold

Jacob Lewis pushed off at the start of the boys' 13-14 50-yard backstroke. His gold medal helped the Ajo Desert Sharks, the smallest team at the meet, to finish fourth.

On his way to gold, Dylan Bryant hit the wall in the breaststroke portion of the boys' 15-18 individual medley. Bryant also took the gold in the 50-yard freestyle event. Ajo won a total of 14 medals at the championship to place fourth of eight teams.

Ariana Rendon powered through the butterfly on her way to the gold medal in the girls' 8 & under individual medley. Rendon also took gold in the 25-yard butterfly and silver in the 25-yard freestyle to help lead Ajo to a fourth-place finish at the Pima County Championships in Tucson sponsored by the Pima County Natural Resources, Parks & Recreation department.

Personnel, policy on AUSD agenda

Meeting in regularly scheduled sessions, the Ajo Unified School District board last week dealt with a variety of board policy, personnel, and business issues.

Superintendent Robert Dooley, in a prelude to discussion on personnel items, noted in his board report that staffing presents a perennial problem this time of year. He said he may ask for a special board meet-

Dooley singled out staff members Patti Spencer, Claudian Carpenter, and Angelina Valenzuela with praise for additional work they have put into the business office this summer.

The School Improvement Grant (SIG) staff will return from summer break on July 29, he said, and teachers will be coming back to campus August 5 and 6. Dooley also noted that Jumpstart and STEM classes had started the week before, with 40 students in the former, and 12 in

In personnel actions, the board voted to accept one certified and three classified resignations. Velma Taboada, hired at last month's board meeting, decided to withdraw from employment with the district, citing family reasons. The three classified resignations accepted were Joni Jaramillo, in payroll and accounts payable; Shawna Rupple, school secretary; and Dahlia Perez, custodian.

The board okayed Charmaine Beharie for an extra-pay position as coordinator of the gifted program, and approved the hiring of Venus Celaya in accounting and accounts payable, and Nathan Garcia as a custodian.

The board also approved the payment of $17,000 for new reading materials for students, and again voted to supplement insurance benefits for classified personnel. Dooley said the additional per-person insurance payment would be about $1895 for each of approximately 12-15

Board policy provisions were given their first reading at the Tuesday study session, and adopted in the regular meeting Wednesday. Those revisions included performance classifications for probationary and continuing staff, and clarifications on staff reassignment and transfer. Modifications dealt largely with issues of lower-performance staff. The third policy change adopted had to do with evaluation of professional staff members with new outlines for performance levels and plans.

Pima Board of Supervisors to consider fees for county landfills

A second public notice for a hearing in Tucson on August 6 about landfill fees appears in this issue. The first notice appeared June 19 and there has been extensive coverage of the issues in this newspaper in the past weeks. The ordinance being considered covers fee structures for all landfills and transfer stations currently being operated by Tucson Recycling & Waste Services; it does not contain any proposals for future transfer stations. If approved, fees would be charged at the Ajo Landfill beginning September 6.

The public hearing will be held on Tuesday, August 6, in the Board of Supervisors hearing room at 130 W. Congress Street in Tucson. The hearing room is on the first floor and the hearing will begin at or after 9 a.m. The board has many other agenda items so it is unknown with the landfill item will be heard.

The proposed ordinances are available for review at the PDEQ office, through the Pima County website at www.pima.gov and on the PDEQ website at www.pima.gov/deg online. For additional information, call Sarah Walters at 520-724-7400.

Comments pertaining to the proposed solid waste ordinances may be submitted at the public meetings; in writing to PDEQ, Attn: Sarah Walters, 33 N Stone Ave., Suite 700, Tucson, AZ 85701; or via e-mail to sarah.walters@pima.gov. Written comments on the proposed ordinances will be accepted by PDEQ until 5 p.m. on July 19.

Written comments can also be submitted to the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors until the August 6 board hearing to COB_Mail@pima.gov or 130 W. Congress St., 5th Floor, Tucson, AZ 85701. Comments sent to the clerk of the board will be given to all five county supervisors.

National Bank of Arizona staff members Angie Olais, Eric Alegria, and Vianka Mariscal stood by a memorial display for the 19 Granite Mountain Hot Shots who perished in the Yarnell Hill Fire. The idea for the display came from Olais, whose brother is a seasonal firefighter who worked on a team alongside those who died, his team rotating out just prior to the tragedy. She noted that all the employees at the bank helped create the memorial.

"We did it in remembrance to the fallen 19 and also as a show of solidarity for our local firefighters," said Olais.

Large recycling bins have been placed at the landfill near a sign that asks people to refrain from dumping tires and instead use the bins. As part of the process of changing over operations from Pima County to Tucson Recycling & Waste Services, two bins have been added at the dump as a community service to those wishing to recycle. One is for cardboard, the second for paper, plastic, tin, and aluminum, and the third is for steel and appliances. No glass yet, said Kurt Wahl, general manager of TRSW.

Loggerhead shrike

The loggerhead shrike is an intimidating-looking, year-round resident of the Sonoran desert that is often seen perched atop a saguaro or high in a palo verde. His screech, a loud, raspy, harsh, rattle, has much the same enthusiasm as the cactus wren. Mr. "Shriek" can also warble, but that isn't as obvious (or as offensive) as the usual rasp. He is a predatory songbird -- a contradiction of terms since songbirds usually have a more mellow image than a predator.

His beak is not mellow, at least to look at. His bill has a sharp edge like that of a falcon and he hunts like a raptor.

His most distinguishing features are the black stripe through his eyes and that hooked bill that makes him look like a mini raptor.

Lanius ludovicianus is gray with a white breast. His belly is black as are his wings but each wing has a white patch. The wide black tail completes the outfit.

The shrike catches his prey live, pouncing on mice, insects, snakes, and small birds. What he can't eat at the time of capture, he impales on a barbed wire fence or on thorns of cactus plants or other sharp objects. He remembers where he left it and comes back to eat it, though – it doesn't go to waste

His strong claws are not talons, but he can carry prey with his feet like a raptor.

Second book in Spitzer's trilogy to be released

Local author Raymond Spitzer is about to see the second book in his Ted White mystery series released by WiD Publishing, according to a recent press release from the internet publisher, and is working on the third book.

Spitzer's first book, Arizona Guy, "captures the small town feel of Ajo, Arizona, so perfectly that basically the entire town bought or borrowed a copy," noted the press release. The novel follows the exploits of high school band director Ted White, who comes to Ajo to house-sit for relatives and escape a broken engagement, only to find his relatives are mysteriously missing.

The writing bug caught Spitzer in high school and he majored in English and creative writing at the University of Arizona. A move from English and social studies teacher to local 911 dispatcher gave him more time to channel his creative energies toward writing.

WiDo's submissions editor Allie Maldonado said, "We hope there are many more Ted White mysteries." Spitzer said future stories will involve Ted's students as well as the adults of the community. There will continue to be a mix of humor, drama, and the natural history of the region. Subjects relating to Ajo's location in the low desert and its proximity to the border with Mexico, along with scenarios such as the threat of school violence or even mass murder will be explored. Spitzer notes that the interaction of the people in the close-knit community of the mystery series will be of prime importance.

A mesquite milling demonstration on how to use an affordable, hand-cranked grain mill to make a nutritious flour will be held Saturday, July 20, at 8:30 a.m. in the courtyard of the former elementary school on the Curley campus. Mesquite bean flour may be used to replace one-quarter of the flour in any baked goods recipe. The public is invited to learn the process of grinding mesquite beans, sample some mesquite pancakes, and see what else is happening in the bustling Curley courtyard.

Native Ways educator Danny August will facilitate the event. August is an assistant teacher of the O'odham language study group at the public library, an ISDA guest teacher, and an author of books and periodicals about native ways. He enjoys storytelling, music, beading, gourd painting, hiking, cooking, and gardening. August spent three years perfecting the process of making mesquite bean flour with little effort or cost. He said he is passionate about teaching people how to harvest and use the native foods of the Sonoran Desert.

PUBLIC NOTICE RELATED TO SOLID WASTE PROPOSING A NEW FEE SCHEDULE FOR PIMA COUNTY'S SOLID WASTE FACILITIES AND PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

TO PIMA COUNTY CODE TITLE 13

The Pima County Department of Environmental Quality (PDEQ) is proposing revisions to Pima County Code (PCC) Title 13 (Solid Waste) and the County's fee schedule relating to Pima County's solid waste facilities (landfills and transfer stations).

Staff recommends the Board of Supervisors approve the proposed ordinance amendments to Title 13, Pima County Code, relating to Solid Waste and adopt the proposed fee schedule ordinance. The proposed ordinance amendments to PCC Title 13 amend sections related to the definitions, waste acceptance, and fees at solid waste facilities, as well as repeal sections related to the County's financial responsibilities at solid waste facilities. The proposed fee schedule ordinance presents changes to solid waste facilities fees, including changes to commercial and residential fees, increasing fees over a period of five (5) years.

A public hearing before the Pima County Board of Supervisors will be held on Tuesday, August 6, 2013 at, or after, 9:00 a.m. in the Board Hearing Room, located at 130 W. Congress, 1st floor, Tucson, Arizona.

The proposed ordinances are available for review at the PDEQ office, on the Pima County Home Page (www.pima.gov), and on the PDEQ website (www.deq.pima.gov). If requested, PDEQ can email a pdf version of the proposed ordinances to anyone requesting this service. For additional information, please call Sarah Walters at (520) 724-7400.

Ajo's gardeners TV appearance is on the web

A number of Ajo residents associated with the local gardening scene were featured on Tucson television recently in segments of the Arizona Illustrated Nature show. Websites of Arizona Public Media and the Public Broadcasting System spell out the direction the gardening groups are taking in making Ajo a greener, healthier, and more economically stable community.

Ideas, note the websites, will also touch on the art and culture of the town as Ajo attempts to transform into a community that thrives on local gardens and sustainable agriculture, as well as other development ideas. For instance, what used to be asphalt at a former public school is now a productive vegetable garden, orchard, and chicken coop. A commercial kitchen, meeting spaces, and resort area for conferences and conventions are other projects in the works at the former school. Imagination seems to know no bounds among the gardeners and their supporting organizations. Even solar-powered golf carts for tours of the town are being considered.

The television segments may be viewed at www.azpm.org online by typing "Ajo gardens" in the search window.

Firefighter Brian Peterson, Kids' Club members John Pavon, Logan Hibbard, Louis Manuel, Luis Malvido, & Francisco Lopez, and BP Agent Salas posed in front of a fire engine last week.

The kids were shown how a fire truck and its equipment work by firefighters Brian Peterson and Andrew Howard when the group toured the Ajo/Gibson Volunteer Fire Department. Kid's Club participants put on fire gear and experienced the truck's PA system firsthand.

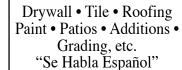

Agent Salas gave the group a tour of the new Border Patrol building and Agent Smith from the horse patrol unit explained how their horses go through training, what a typical shift looks like, and how temperaments and preferences are different for each horse.

Kids' Club is a 6-week-long confidence-building and team-building group led by Desert Senita Community Health Center's behavioral health team. For information, contact Andrea Peterson at 387-5628.

Staring into the setting sun and quite likely glad the season is over, the all-volunteer coaches of the T-ball and coach pitch teams posed for a picture. In the front row are Charlie Tapp, Clarissa Gonzales, Kattie Allen, Carly Cardeñas, Christina Perriello, Christina Zubiate, and Carlos Zubiate. In the back row are Lue Martinez, Monica Yon, Tito Yon, and Tony Vargas. Coaches not pictured were Ryan Judd, Mark Moore, Scott Moore, Andi Lopez, Reyes Valenzuela, Alfred Macias, Rosa Serventi, Miguel Garcia, Ruben del Rosario, and Ticha Mancilla.

Impact statements wanted for four

The victimless crime reporting organization Ajo Neighborhood Association receives case reports from the Pima County Attorney's Office about alleged perpetrators of victimless crimes such as narcotics offenses. The ANA then notifies the local media about the cases, seeking statements of impact from community members that may be read in court to help a judge or jury decide on sentencing consequences.

The latest case reports from PCAO are for four Ajo residents.

Lester James Carmello has been charged with possession of marijuana under statute 13-3405A1 for an incident May 9.

Eduardo Padres has been charged with possession of a narcotic drug under statute 13-3408 for an incident June 11.

Anthony Dwayne Vannasdale has been charged with possession of marijuana under statute 13-3405A1 for an incident June 12.

Brandi Vannasdale has been charged with possession of marijuana under statute 13-3405A1 for an incident June 13.

To offer an impact statement, call ANA liaison Dave Godfrey at 387-5079 or Victim Services Advocate Norma Gomez at 387-3664, or email ajoasvictim@ gmail.com online.

Case reports from the PCAO contain names of people who have been cited or arrested; they should be presumed innocent until convicted in a court of law.
