

Dimensions are sometimes deceiving. The drilling equipment visible on one of the benches on the south side of Ajo's expansive mine pit last week was really much larger than the matchbox-size it appeared to be. A good set of binoculars or telephoto lens help considerably with viewing from the mine lookout.

Two drill rigs arrived in Ajo recently as part of an effort to obtain samples for metallurgical test work and to generate additional geologic information. Drilling is being done in the pit and the immediate surrounding area and is expected to be completed late this year or by early 2013.

Core samples from mine pit are only for test work

A brace of mobile drilling rigs came to Ajo recently and have been seen in operation in the open pit mine south of town, prompting some to wonder if there is restart in the air.

Not so, according to Freeport-McMoRan Copper & Gold Inc. spokesman Gabe Doak.

"The Ajo property is a resource that looks attractive for possible further development; however, the company does not have any plans for a restart of the Ajo mine," said Doak. "The drilling is part of an effort to obtain samples for metallurgical test work and to in-fill areas with additional holes. We anticipate the drilling will be completed late this year or in early 2013."

Doak noted that the drilling will be from accessible areas in the pit and immediate surrounding area. He said all drill sites will have lined sumps for full containment of all drilling-related fluids and will meet Freeport-McMoRan's and the state's environmental drilling requirements and policies for hole completion. The obtained core samples are assayed to determine their content, and the collected data and models are used to confirm the ore's characterization.

While most of the drill work will take place inside the pit, Doak noted that some holes that will be drilled near the south pit margin from mine dumps and haul roads are distant from the town site.

In other mine-related news, work continues on the utility line upgrades in the Ajo Improvement Company section of town (see Update to the Community ad elsewhere in this issue). AIC will begin paving streets from Curley

School to the mine pit and from the Greenway Mansion to Ajo school with the completion of water and sewer upgrades in this area.

Sewer upgrades will begin soon for the areas east of the railroad tracks from the school to the sheriff's department office, west of the tracks from Solana Avenue to West Cholla Avenue, from West Cholla Avenue to Rasmussen Road, and from the cemetery to the railroad tracks.

Freeport's Social Investment Grant program received four applications that were tied to the priorities identified by the Ajo Community Partnership Panel. The awarding of grants will be announced in early 2013.

Partnering with Freeport-McMoRan, the Arizona College Scholarship Foundation said it will be increasing its outreach to students in Ajo to make them aware of scholarship opportunities and help them receive any technical assistance they might need to apply.

In an effort to support sustainable development at its mine sites, Freeport has teamed up with the Wildlife Habitat Council to promote and enhance habitat for critical pollinator species. Last month a pollinator garden was established in the circle drive outside the general office on Elota Avenue.

"Within several months and over time, we should notice an increase in the diversity of plants and associated pollinators in this area," said spokesman Robert Quintanar.

In financial news, Freeport recently declared a cash dividend of $0.3125 per share payable on November 1 for its common stock.

CuNews digital ushers in new era at Copper News

After taking a few baby steps, the staff of the Ajo Copper News took the plunge and put out its first digital issue last week.

"It was a challenge," said editor Gabrielle David of learning how to use InDesign. "That first issue took us five times longer to finish that it would doing it the old-fashioned way. But I think the paper looks better and we're soon going to be able to offer digital subscriptions and single issue sales. The digital issues will also show the photographs in color!"

Publisher H.J. "Hop" David agreed. "We're currently exploring options for online sales," he said. Until we get it figured out, the first few digital issues can be downloaded for free."

An 8.4 megabyte pdf file for the first issue can be seen at www.cunews.info/pdf/CuNews120926.pdf. The current issue, with a larger file size due to color pictures, can be found at www.cnews.info/pdf/CuNews121003.pdf online.

Both the editor & publisher would like feedback. Opinions about the digital issues can be sent to cunews@cunews.info.

Garden festival is October 6

A fall gardening festival will be held at the courtyard garden in the former Curley School elementary campus on Saturday, October 6, at 4 p.m.

The Ajo Center for Sustainable Agriculture invites everyone to meet other local gardeners and discuss tips and resources before the coming growing season. There will be a seed swap with vegetables, fruits, and flowers, and a compost, seed, and seedling giveaway. Participants are asked to bring a nutritious dish to share for the potluck. Live music is planned. Call Nina & Peter Altshul at 387-3132 to learn more.

It's AHS Homecoming Week!

It's Homecoming Week for the Red Raiders of Ajo High School. This year's celebration will follow a Willy Wonka theme.

According to student council sponsor Katy Wilkins, "It is refreshing to see the interest and excitement of our students. A much higher percentage of our students can participate in these festivities than if we were a much larger high school."

During the week, students build class floats at various locations. "There is an attempt, albeit sometimes futile, among the classes to guard the detail of their float to help ensure its uniqueness," said Principal Brian MacKenzie. He and the superintendent, Dr. Robert Dooley, will be visiting float-building sites during the week. They say each location will have chaperones to promote student safety and encourage participation by all high school students.

Students will be celebrating Spirit Days all week as well as working on their floats. Monday was Color Day, Tuesday Western/Rodeo Day, Wednesday is Twin Day, Thursday will be Duct Tape Day, and Friday will be the Willy Wonka Theme Day/Spirit.

The volleyball team has a home game on Tuesday against Eloy, starting at 5 p.m. They will travel to Antelope Union on Thursday.

The community is invited to attend a pep assembly on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in the school gym.

There will be a bonfire rally for students-only at the football field after the assembly. The bonfire will be monitored by the Ajo/Gibson Volunteer Fire Department.

On Friday, Homecoming Day, the parade will wend its way down the highway from Family Dollar/K-5/Pizza Hut to the school starting at 4 p.m.

The Red Raiders will face Salt River for the AHS Homecoming game on Friday at 7 p.m. Royalty will be crowned at halftime and the float winners will be announced.

Second Saturday seeking events to add to schedule

"Some people think Second Saturday is just for ISDA events," said Tracy Taft. "That's not true — it's for all the community events being held on the second Saturday of each month."

She invites planners to call ISDA to have their events added to the Second Saturday advertisement and flyers. Right now they are looking from anything being held on the October 13, November 10, and December 8 to add to the schedule. They'd also like to know about other big events being planned so they can list them in a brochure they are preparing.

To get an event on the calendar, call Liz Yon or Susan Gilbert at ISDA, 387-6823.

Candidates for queen are Andrea Canez, Jennifer Guthrie, Lindsey Leon, and Cinnamon Robles. Candidates for king are Abiam Campa Ortega, Emilio Flores, Jake Lopez, and Rafael Rendon. Deanna Orosco & Crimzyn Leonard will be the crown bearers.

In addition to the halftime Homecoming activities, Parent Night for the football team will be celebrated at 6:30 p.m. in Petersen Stadium before the game. Parents of all football players will be invited to join their sons for special recognition on the field. For the seniors, it will be their last time as an Ajo Raider football player to be at an event on their home field.

In the final event of a busy week, the Homecoming 2012 royalty will reign over the student Homecoming Dance on Saturday night in the school gym.

Design proposals, GED program on WPCCC agenda

The October 2012 meeting of the Western Pima County Community Council will take place Thursday, October 4, at Bud Walker Park at 7 p.m.

Tracy Taft, executive director of the International Sonoran Desert Alliance, is scheduled to talk about community response to preliminary design proposals for Ajo's townsite area from the Depot west through the Curley School facility.

Recently named GED instructors will be introduced by Morgana Wallace-Cooper. Deb Miller of Supervisor Sharon Bronson's office will be at the meeting and available for discussion at 6 p.m.

The agenda will also include an update on activities at the Ajo Unified School District, as well as those by representatives from local law-enforcement agencies.

There will be the customary call to the floor for issues to be raised, and an opportunity to mention upcoming community events.

WPCCC will hold elections for representatives from odd-numbered districts — 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, and 11 — in December, with nominations to be made in November. Information about the process will be available at the meeting.

WPCCC meetings are open to the public.

Mr. Bennett was also a member of the Lions Club and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

He donated over 100 pints of blood to the Red Cross.

In his spare time he enjoyed leatherwork, sketching desert scenes, playing guitar or harmonica, and working in the garden.

In 1996 he moved to San Miguel Village on the Tohono O'odham Nation.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Lucy B. Bennett, who died on March 9, 2008. She was born February 22, 1927, in Oregon to Will & Edna Emery.

She lived most of her life in Sacramento, California, before ending up in Ajo.

In California she bred & showed German shepherds. "She also had the prettiest and most well cared for yard in the area and a huge garden," said her daughter.

Mrs. Smith moved to Ajo about ten years ago, then moved to Oregon for a short time. Coastal Oregon weather prompted a move back to Arizona, first to Maricopa and then back to Ajo and a home she loved.

Mrs. Smith is survived by her daughter, Sherri Mariscales, and her companion, Will Ohlrich.

No local services are planned.

Obits still free in Ajo Copper News

As more and more community newspapers begin charging for obituaries that do more than list the name of the deceased, date of death, and service information, the Ajo Copper News continues to print them at no charge.

"We do have a style and format we follow," said editor Gabrielle David, "and occasionally we have to edit what families have written, but we regard obituaries as important community news. We have no plans to start charging for them."

The newspaper has forms people may fill out to make sure nothing important is forgotten. Request a form by stopping by the office at 10 Pajaro, mailing a letter to Ajo Copper News, P.O. Box 39, Ajo, AZ 85321; calling 520-387-7688; or sending an e-mail to cunews@cunews.info with Obituary in the subject line.

Ajo Museum getting ready for new season

The Ajo Museum is getting ready for a new season. Though a board meeting has been postponed, efforts to spruce the museum up are going ahead.

A volunteer cleanup will be held on Saturday, October 13, starting at 9 a.m. Helping hands and cleaning supplies are needed, says curator Louie Walters, who says they hope to have everything in order to be open by the Red & White Weekend.

Beginning October 19, the museum will be open daily from noon to 4 p.m. except for some holidays. There is no entrance fee but donations are needed to offset operating and maintenance costs. Volunteers are welcome and should contact Walters.

The Ajo Historical Society board meeting has been rescheduled from October 9 to November 13 at the museum.

AUSD board meets next week

The Ajo Unified School District board will have its study session meeting Tuesday, October 9, and meet in regular session Wednesday, October 10. Both meetings begin at 5:30 p.m.

Meetings are held in the board meeting room on the AUSD campus. All meetings are open to the public.

Nominations for Western Pima County Community Council representatives of odd-numbered districts will be accepted throughout November, with election taking place at the Thursday, December 6, meeting. All new candidates must be a legal resident of the district they seek to represent, be a registered voter in Arizona, submit a notarized statement declaring the candidate has not been convicted of a felony or crime involving fraud, and submit a one-page resume listing qualifications. Qualifications should include education, work experience or any previous community involvement, and a paragraph on the goals they envision for western Pima County.

Candidates for reelection must submit a form stating their intention to run and a statement declaring that the previous notarized statement is still true. All paperwork must be completed and received by the election committee two weeks prior to the election.

Local healthcare is topic for talk

Desert Senita Community Health Center is helping to sponsor a public forum on healthcare issues scheduled for Tuesday, October 9, from 5:30 to 7 p.m. in the Ajo Ambulance training room. The forum, called A Community Conversation on Healthcare, will include a variety of healthcare providers and policy makers from the Office of Rural Healthcare, Children's Action Alliance, and other agencies along with a number of legislators. It is free and open to the public.

It will be a time to share ideas about healthcare priorities for families and the community as a whole. DSCHC director Fran Driver said some examples might include the desire for a local physical therapy department, home health and assistance in daily living, or some medical specialty service that is currently lacking in the area.

The discussion may cover possible changes in the Medicaid system and the Affordable Care Act, among other policy issues.

Driver said it is important for as many community members to attend as possible.

"The more that state agencies are aware of our needs, the more likely we are to receive funding for those services," she said.

To learn more about the forum, contact Matt Jewett at 602-266-0707x212 or at mjewett@azchildren.org online.

CPR is changing, still saving lives

CPR standards are changing. Continuous chest compression resuscitation is replacing the former approach of combining chest compressions with rescue breaths. Continuous chest compression is simple and does not require mouth-to-mouth contact, making it more likely that bystanders will try to help, according to websites of the University of Arizona College of Medicine where it was developed.

While aspirin is touted as an immediate remedy, reputable sources, such as the American Heart Association, advise calling 911 immediately, waiting no more than five minutes after the chest pain starts. If aspirin is taken, it should be done after 911 is called.

"The more important thing to do if any heart attack warning signs occur is to call 911 immediately. Don't do anything before calling 911. In particular, don't take an aspirin, then wait for it to relieve your pain. Don't postpone calling 911. Aspirin won't treat your heart attack by itself," according to the www.heart.org the American Heart Association's website, which notes that ambulance personnel will normally give aspirin as part of their chest pain treatment.

The AHA cautions against aspirin if a stroke is suspected. "Taking aspirin isn't advised during a stroke, because not all strokes are caused by blood clots. Most strokes are caused by clots, but some are caused by ruptured blood vessels. Taking aspirin could potentially make these bleeding strokes more severe."

Katie Kerr, who lives in San Simon on the Tohono O'odham Nation, is the featured artist for October at the Salazar-Ajo Library. "Beauty is all around us and Kerr says to her it is intended to bring joy and energy to one's life," said library staff. "She has lived in many places and captured the beauty as still pictures of nature so all may enjoy and gain energy and pleasure from the photos."

Kerr comes from a family of artists, both in music and visual art, and has found her niche in photo art with nature as the theme. Her newest contribution is a photo art web site www.apictureofnature.com. DSCHC is changing sliding fee scale

Desert Senita Community Health Center has updated their sliding fee scale according to CEO Fran Driver.

The health center offers a sliding scale fee for individuals who have incomes below 200% of the federal poverty level. Driver stated that while the sliding scale fee has been reviewed annually, it had not been adjusted since 2006.

At the last board meeting, the DSCHC board approved a new sliding fee scale program that Driver says should simplify the process for everyone who uses the sliding fee scale discount.

"As DSCHC moves towards becoming a Patient Centered Medical Home, one of the quality indicators that is being measured is receiving co-payments the day of service," said Driver. "Historically DSCHC has not required payment the day of service which lead to a lot of time, money, and energy being spent attempting to collect the fees at a later date. This process had been a large dissatisfier for many patients, so DSCHC will now be requiring all individuals to pay their co-payments at the time of service or meet with the accounts receivable representative to make payment arrangements."

Previously, anyone who qualified at 100% poverty level and below paid a nominal fee for their medical visit, but everyone from 101% to 200% paid a percentage of the overall visit charges. Since the amount could vary depending on what was done for the patient during the visit it made it difficult for individuals to predict what their charges would be.

Now, any individual who qualifies for the sliding fee scale and receives medical services pays a nominal fee. Those who are uninsured and make less than 100% of the federal poverty level will pay a nominal fee of $20 for their visit. Anyone who makes between 101% and 150% FPL will pay a flat fee of $30 for their visit; at 151% and 200% the fee will be $35 per visit. The charges for ancillary services were also reviewed and updated: lab services $10, x-ray $10, & ultrasound $20.

New this year, DSCHC will be offering a cash discount to all uninsured individuals who pay for their services the day of their appointment. This cash pay discount is based on the Medicare reimbursement rate and Drive says can save an individual more than 50% off for many visit types. Per insurance laws, this discount can only be offered to individuals who are not insured and pay the same day as their appointment.

At the same time, Driver says the DSCHC board made paying for dental services less confusing. Previously all dental sliding scale fees were based on a percentage of services rendered. Now for all essential dental services, as defined by the Bureau of Primary Health Care, Desert Senita Dental will charge only a nominal fee of $40 per visit for individuals who qualify at the 100% FPL or below. "This $40 covers the complete visit, no matter what you have done," said Driver. Individuals from 101% to 200% FPL will continue to pay a percentage of the overall charges for all essential dental services. For all non-essential dental services everyone who qualifies for the sliding fee scale program will receive a 50% discount for services rendered after all outside dental laboratory fees are paid. Non-essential dental services include items such as dentures. To provide dentures the dentist must send molds of an individual's mouth to an outside laboratory at a cost of several hundred dollars. The dental office will now be requiring individuals to pay all outside lab costs prior to receiving any non-essential dental work.

Desert Senita Dental will also be offering a cash discount for individuals that are uninsured and pay the same day of service. This cash discount will be 10% off all services rendered for the day if the individual pays the day of service.

Jesse Luna faces kidney transplant and joblessness

Jesse Luna had bad news, good news, and bad news.

Bad news: he needs a kidney transplant due to the complications of diabetes. Good news: his sister Diana Garcia is a match to donate a kidney. Bad news: he no longer has a job or health insurance.

He and his sister are scheduled for surgery on October 16, 2012. What comes after surgery are medical bills and looking for work while he recovers.

The Lunas are an Ajo family, although many of them now live elsewhere. Jesse Luna, a 1980 graduate of Ajo High School, is the son of Jesus "Chuy" Luna (who now lives in the Phoenix area) and the late Alice Luna. His aunt, Terry Luna, still lives in Ajo. He also has two other sisters, Liz Manuel & Barbara Smith.

UPDATE TO THE COMMUNITY

Ajo Community Partnership Panel

Partnership Panel Reviews Company Operations and More

The Ajo Community Partnership Panel, hosted by Freeport-McMoRan Copper & Gold Inc., seeks to keep the community informed about its operations, and to foster open and ongoing dialogue to develop thoughtful solutions to address community issues.

The Ajo Community Partnership Panel met September 5. Topics included a company update, Ajo Improvement Co. activities, an economic impact report, community engagement updates and local social investments by the Company.

Company Update

Freeport-McMoRan has begun a limited exploration drilling program at Ajo as part of an effort to obtain samples for metallurgical test work and to generate additional geologic information. The Ajo deposit is a resource that looks attractive for possible further development; however, the company does not currently have any plans for a restart of the Ajo mine. Drilling will be conducted in the pit and the immediate surrounding area, and is expected to be completed late this year or early 2013.

Ajo Improvement Co.

AIC will begin paving the roads from Curley School to the mine pit and from the Greenway Mansion to Ajo High School now that all the sewer and water replacement work in this area has been completed.

The sewer replacement project will begin soon and continue through 2014 for the following areas:

- East of the railroad tracks from Ajo High School to the Pima County Sheriff Station and west of the tracks from Solana Ave. to W. Cholla Ave.
- From W. Cholla Ave. to Ave. to Rasmussen Rd. and from the cemetery to the railroad tracks.

Economic Impact Report

In 2011, the estimated direct and indirect economic impact of Freeport-McMoRan Copper & Gold on Arizona was approximately $2.8 billion. Freeport-McMoRan also employed over 7,600 workers at year end. The total direct and indirect impact of Freeport-McMoRan on the Arizona economy was estimated to be nearly 30,000 jobs.

In 2011, we contributed over $26 million to Arizona communities focusing our efforts on education and training, economic development, safety and wellness, the environment and cultural heritage programs.

Community Engagement Updates & Discussion

Four applications for the Company's Social Investment Grant program were received that were tied to the priorities identified by the Ajo Community Partnership Panel. Awards will be announced in early 2013.

Freeport-McMoRan announced a new statewide partnership with the Arizona College Scholarship Foundation (ACSF), www.azcsf.org, which provides scholarship opportunities for Arizona youth – including those in rural communities like Ajo. The successful program offers students mentoring/coaching and other support throughout their college careers to help ensure they achieve their goal of a college degree. ACSF will be increasing their outreach to Ajo students to ensure they are aware of the program and receive any technical assistance needed to apply.

The Mini Grants for Education deadline is October 30th. These grants provide up to $500 for K-12 classrooms in Freeport-McMoRan communities.

The company also recently launched a new website, www.FreeportInMyCommunity.com, to share comprehensive information about its various community involvement programs, including education and social investment program applications, as well as other useful information. The website is designed to engage all types of partners – from communities, nonprofits and schools to stakeholders and employees, with the goal of "transforming tomorrow together" in each of our communities.

Local Social Investments

During the second quarter of 2012, Ajo Operations invested almost $7,000 locally including the Ajo High School (sports program), the Ajo Gibson Volunteer Fire Department, the 4th of July Celebration and the 1st Annual Steel/Peek Memorial Golf Tournament.

For questions or more information, please contact our Operations Community Hotline at (520) 387-2098.

Nancy & Tom Richeson picked up some barbeque delicacies at the Chuck's Wagon grill last Friday while it was set up in the Ajo Copper News parking lot. Helping with the school athletics fundraiser were, from left, Josie Robles, Marcia Duncan, Amanda Ballard and her 10-month-old son Crew, chef Chuck Johnson, Lyle Williams, Jeannie Morago, and Rose Cameron. Other volunteers came and went throughout the day. The barbeque was one of a series of events scheduled to raise money for school sports.

Get facts straight

Editor:

I wish Ms. Cameron would have gotten the facts straight before jumping off the cliff. It seems like some believe the International Sonoran Desert Alliance is to blame for everything that goes on in our community.

In the decade that I have lived in Ajo, ISDA has been the one organization that has moved forward. When my late husband and I arrived we found a quiet community, a place where we could find peace and comfort but there was little change and little improvement. This scenario continued for several years until ISDA came on board. The establishment, by that I mean the people who loved Ajo and wanted it to somehow remain the same, refused to acknowledge that something had to be done.

A case in point is Curley School which was vacant and deteriorating. Members of the community (old and new) filled out comment cards answered questionnaires and generally gave input as to what Ajo needed to go forward. This was a long and sobering experience for many of us. Finally the International Sonoran Desert Alliance submitted a plan, it was accepted, and they began the process to find funding for the restoration of Curley School. They were able to hire locals who were qualified and train others, both men and women, to work on the project. Time passed and now the Curley School project has provided housing for artists, a GED program, an agricultural program, a print shop, and an apprentice program for skilled handymen/women.

ISDA has brought Ajo up to a standard that anyone would be happy to live in, but still there are folks out there who want to tear down Ajo and bring us back to the dark ages. I know some of these people and I don't think they really mean harm, but do they understand that by always complaining and running down our community, it hurts every one of us? Please think of what you're saying and try to build up our town instead of running it down.

Letter to the editor

Change is not always bad

Editor:

Several people have written this paper and the website that suggests Plaza upgrades strongly opposing change in any form—as if Ajo has never changed. They forget that change isn't always bad.

Fifty years ago, Ajo was racially segregated by neighborhood. Thank God, that has changed. By 1989, after a bitter strike that split families and friends, whole blocks of Ajo houses sat empty. Now, due to a huge influx of snowbird money and energy, those same houses are occupied and their owners are contributing to the local economy and culture. Beneficial change!

Ten years ago, the Curley School was largely abandoned and unused. Today, thanks to ISDA, it has been totally refurbished and its thirty-plus occupants bring more money and energy to Ajo. More good change.

Nobody wants to change the basic look and feel of the Plaza. Personally, I think it needs a more functional bandstand, a little more shade, and better maintenance — which some volunteers are working on. If the people who are getting worked up over change contributed some of their time helping out at the Plaza and Memory Park, it would benefit all of us.

Collective of local gardeners is backbone of Ajo CSA project

The Coyote Gardens CSA, a project of the Ajo Center for Sustainable Agriculture, is a collective of local gardeners growing in backyard and demonstration gardens around Ajo. CSA in this case stands for community supported agriculture, a direct-sales model that eliminates the middleman and builds a close relationship between growers and consumers, according to Peter Altshul of the CSA.

CSA gardeners grow more than 40 varieties of produce as well as numerous herbs and flowers using companion planting and intercropping to conserve water and space, and to achieve natural pest and disease protection. Some CSA produce is available for sale at Second Saturdays farmers markets, but the main purpose of the project is to build community in Ajo through sharing the garden bounty, work, and knowledge with members.

"It's not just about knowing what goes into your food and how it gets from the garden to your table," said Altshul. "It is also about knowing that a grower is fairly compensated, growing the community, where locally-earned dollars stay in the community and make an economic impact, connecting the past with the future, reviving old growing practices and plant varieties and sharing them with the next generations, sitting down together over good food, building relationships and lending a hand to a neighbor in need, and taking care of our environment and future generations."

Growing for neighbors allows Coyote gardeners to customize vegetable production to a member's specific wishes and to keep the feedback cycle close to home.

The Ajo Center for Sustainable Agriculture says they are aware that organic produce is outside of the budget for many Ajoites. Therefore they are working to make produce available at reasonable prices through the CSA, farmers market and work-for-food programs, using food stamps and other assistance programs, as well as offering financial help and technical assistance with installing backyard gardens so families can grow their own.

Coyote Gardens is Ajo Center for Sustainable Agriculture's pilot project for its Small Growers Incubator program, which is designed to help gardeners learn how to grow and prepare food for sale. Anyone interested in becoming a small grower or a Coyote Gardens grower, or just volunteering in the gardens, can obtain more information at ajocsa.com online and from Peter and Nina Altshul at 387-3132. The Altshuls invite everyone to join them at the Center's Gardening Festival, which will be held at the courtyard garden behind the Curley School on Saturday, October 6 at 4 pm.

In addition to the festival, a meeting for vegetable growers is set for October 6 at 10 a.m.

Library to hold art exhibit & book talk

The library has many ongoing programs which include stay and play on Wednesdays at 9 a.m., bilingual family story-time on Thursdays at 10:30 a.m., and after school homework help Monday through Thursday's after school.

On Saturday, October 6, at 2 p.m., there will be an opening reception for Katie Kerr's nature-themed photography exhibit, which will hang in the library for nature enthusiasts to admire all month long.

During the month of October the Random Readers will be reading "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" by Betty Smith. Anyone is welcome to check out the book and join the book discussion on November 7 at 1:30 p.m.

More information about library activities can be found in the library's ad on page 14 of this issue.

Wildlife crossings to be built near Kitt Peak

Two under-crossing structures are planned for construction near the Kitt Peak intersection with Highway 86. The crossings are being built to reduce the number of animal-vs-vehicle accidents in the area, now figured at roughly 20% of all crashes along the highway near the observatory site.

ADOT says the crossings will be built in conjunction with an ongoing highway-widening project.

Controversy surrounding the effort centers on planned costs, which have soared by 60%, according to an Arizona Daily Star report, and are now expected to reach $1.2 million. The RTA will come up with an additional $154,000 and ADOT $291,000 to cover the added expenses.

Allergies increasing

Rising temperatures and higher carbon dioxide levels in the atmosphere are lengthening the allergy season and changing how plants produce allergens, according to researchers. In addition, rising temperatures combined with vehicle pollution can trigger more ground-level ozone -- a pollutant that causes respiratory problems -- especially in urban areas that already suffer from poor air quality.

Meeting notices are welcome

Local organizations are welcome to submit meeting notices for publication in the Ajo Copper News.

"Some people think we require groups to buy an ad. Basically, we don't require an ad unless something is being sold or an admission fee is being charged. A short paragraph saying when you are meeting is considered news and there is no charge for that," said editor Gabrielle David.

Turn in meeting notices at the newspaper office at 10 Pajaro or e-mail the information to cunews@cunews.info, being sure to include the organization name, when and where the meeting is, what is on the agenda, whether it is open to the public or for members only, and give a contact name & number in case the newspaper staff needs to get more information.

Safe costumes

It's time to start thinking about Halloween costumes. Halloween, October 31, is only a few weeks away.

Purchase costumes, masks, beards, and wigs that are identified as "flame resistant." That does not mean they won't catch fire, but does indicate the items will resist burning and should extinguish quickly. To minimize contact with candles and other fire sources, avoid costumes made with flimsy materials and outfits with big, baggy sleeves or billowing skirts.

Purchase or make costumes that are light and bright enough to be clearly visible to motorists.

Cosmetics and hair spray should be applied according to the instructions on the label. Hair coloring sprays can be irritating to some individuals and should be tested on a small patch of skin before use.

Make-up is safer than masks. Loose-fitting masks might obscure vision or obstruct breathing. If a mask is used, it should fit securely and have eyeholes big enough to allow full vision.

Accessories such as swords and knives should be made of soft, flexible material.

Alzheimer's warning signs

There are several warning signs that may indicate someone is in the early stages of Alzheimer's Disease.

- Memory loss that is bad enough to interfere with daily living and that gets progressively worse. Forgetting where the car keys are is normal; forgetting how to use them is not.
- Getting lost in familiar places. Alzheimer's patients can suddenly forget how to get home from a familiar place.
- Problems with language, such as a consistent inability to remember words or using words inappropriately in conversation.
- Feeling overwhelmed and making multiple errors when trying to perform routine tasks like reading or balancing a check-book.
- Personality changes such as mood swings and unexplained agitation. This can be a sign of depression or another health problem but, combined with any other symptoms, it could be an early sign of Alzheimer's.

Some big animals

The polar bear averages about 1100 pounds.

A grizzly bear can weigh up to 1700 pounds. The largest of these are Alaskan brown bears.

A walrus may weigh about 3300 pounds. It has a layer of blubber to help keep it warm.

The northern elephant seal can weigh 4400 pounds. It may lose 50% of its weight during mating season when it is too busy to eat and molts while growing a new coat.

RAIDER OF THE WEEK

By Robert Sorrels

Abiam Campa's touchdown, pass receptions, and good defensive play against Salome earned him Raider of the Week.

Campa, a senior, plays football, basketball, and baseball. "I love football, but baseball is really #1." Asked why he plays he responded, "I love sports. The competition is great and it keeps me in shape. It's also great to play with my friends." His favorite play of the week was the 1st-half touchdown run in which he broke tackles and leapt over a defender. "That was a blast!"

Campa admits that academics aren't his favorite thing but he is carrying "about a B average." When not in school he likes to go off-roading with friends. Campa explained that he doesn't "follow" anyone, "except a good block!" he was quick to add. As a senior he is planning a career in the Air Force. "Lots of opportunity." Before a game he is focused, quiet, and thinks positive. When he knows he is getting the ball he thinks, "I'm going all the way."

Ajo-born and bred he is eager to see more of the world and life outside of this desert. His parents are Hector & Maria Campa.

Lady Raiders are riding high!

By Robert Sorrels

Ajo volleyball reaches 10-0 on a hard match away and a sweep at home.

Ajo, 3 Baboquivari 2

The Lady Raiders earned a tough victory over Baboquivari Tuesday in Sells. Ajo opened fast with a 25-18 victory. Erika Salcido and Hannah Lynn (in their first starts) each had aces and kills to lead the team. Baboquivari came back winning the fiercely contested 2nd, 26-24. Raider service was off and Leboria Lopez got the only kill. Lindsey Leon led the offense with 8 serves, but Ajo couldn't hold at set point.

Ajo roared back in the 3rd beating the Warriors 25-16. Lynn had a 10-point run with 2 aces and a kill and Leon had an ace and 2 kills. Baboquivari's captain served well, but her team faltered. Marissa Harris played sparkling defense and led the passing game.

Leading 2-1, Ajo seemed to have the match in hand. The Warriors wouldn't quit. Behind great service, they battled to a 25-20 win. Raider service faltered again and they fell despite kills by Salcido and Lynn.

Tied 2-all in a hostile gym, Ajo faced the tiebreaker. Coach Mancilla told her team, "Suck it up, because it's all on you guys." The first few rallies were even, then Lynn got on a service roll and went 7 straight. The Warriors earned 2 points before Harris stepped up with 3 straight and Ajo won set and match at 15-7. Lopez had 2 kills totaling 4 on the night.

Ajo 3, San Pasqual 0

Returning home on Thursday, Ajo faced winless but scrappy San Pasqual. Harris led the Raider offense with 8 successful serves and a pair of aces as they steam-rolled the Warriors 25-16. Lopez slammed a pair of kills.

In the second set, San Pasqual came alive as the Ladies lost intensity. Ajo held a slim lead across the first 10 points. Their service was off and defensive fire was down. The Warriors pulled close at 10-12 when Mariah Gilmartin, playing well all night, led an 8-point run that included 2 aces. The teams traded points till Ajo neared set point at 23-16. The Warrior captain rolled off 4 points to close, 20-24. Harris had a strong serve followed by a Lynn kill to win 25-20.

In the 3rd, Ajo got down to business and hammered San Pasqual 25-9. Gilmartin led with an ace and 3 kills while Lopez added another kill and Leon and Harris each had aces.

Ajo next faces Eloy and then Antelope in Homecoming Week games.

Gutsy Red Raiders fell

By Robert Sorrels
Patagonia 56, Ajo 24

This is a story of adversity, a tale of refusing to quit. The Red-Raiders went to Patagonia Friday night, leaving behind 3 injured starters and 5 players who - because they had discipline referrals - were ineligible. Coach Brian English's rule is simple, "You must be academically eligible and a good citizen to play." So far this year the team has done well on academics. Not a single player lost to grades. Last week five team members forgot they were citizens of a community with both rights and responsibilities and thus forfeited the privilege to play. Two Raider starters played hurt including Jake Lopez, the anchor of the Ajo line.

It started great as Billy Glass took the opening kickoff 85 yards to score. The Lobos, who feature a big, fast quarterback, struck back. He rolled out on the keeper going all the way. Ajo marched back down field as Glass scored his second TD on a nice running play. The two teams were even in the 1st. Then Ajo tired and had to substitute JV players. Often 8 freshmen were on the field.

In the 2nd quarter, Patagonia exploded with 5 touchdowns using basically two plays: sweep right and the quarterback keeper. Ajo had a good offensive series moving 70 yards with Glass scoring his third TD. Other than that it was all Lobos: 50-18 at the half.

After the break, the Raiders stiffened as they held the Lobos to a single TD. Manny George turned a broken play into an 80-yard scamper for Ajo's final touchdown.

English noted, "We hate to lose, but all you can do is the best you can. I'm proud of these guys' effort. It's trite, but they left everything on the field."

Despite the loss, there were heroes. Lopez limited by injury played hard. "Jake was a man," his coach complimented. Glass, healthy for the first time, had 150 yards and 3 TDs. Devon Rendon (at 5'4" and maybe 130 pounds) played tight end and repeatedly did his best to block a 6' 200-pound lineman. Manny George with his line breaking down stood in to execute the play and take the hit. "Manny was the leader," English noted.

This team has 10 freshmen. They are learning by fire. If they continue to show this dedication and effort, they will be contenders. As for the five who didn't keep their noses clean in school? Gentlemen, you let your teammates down.
