Sheriff's Log, how it works

The Sheriff's Log is a regular feature in the Ajo Copper News. prepared from data, all public records, provided to the newspaper by the Pima County Sheriff's Department. It lists local calls ranging from welfare checks to felony arrests.

The newspaper does very little editing of the log and, does not withhold names on request.

Names of minors under the age of 18 are normally left out unless their charge is an exceptionally serious one.

Readers are reminded that arrests are not convictions and that those arrested are still considered innocent until convicted in a court of law. People found innocent, who bring copies of their court paperwork to the newspaper office, may ask to have that information printed.

Services on checking on welfare of juvenile; juvenile was fine. Vehicle causing a disturbance; peace restored. Valerie A. Stewart, 32, arrested in Lukeville on marijuana-possession for sale, marijuana-transport and/or sell, and possession of drug paraphernalia; and Kenneth L. Obits still free in Ajo Copper News

As more and more community newspapers begin charging for obituaries that do more than list the name of the deceased, date of death, and service information, the Ajo Copper News continues to print them at no charge.

"We do have a style and format we follow," said editor Gabrielle David, "and occasionally we have to edit what families have written, but we regard obituaries as important community news. We have no plans to start charging for them."

The newspaper has forms people may fill out to make sure nothing important is forgotten. Request a form by stopping by the office at 10 Pajaro, mailing a letter to Ajo Copper News, P.O. Box 39, Ajo, AZ 85321; calling 520-387-7688; or sending an e-mail to cunews@cunews.info with Obituary in the subject line.

It was a week of big drug seizures

Local US Customs & Border Protection personnel were involved in several large marijuana seizures recently. In addition, CBP deputy commissioner David V. Aguilar offered a statement regarding the loss of Border Patrol agent Nicholas Ivie.

On Friday, September 28, CBP officers working at the Lukeville Port of Entry referred Mesa couple Mario Madrid Hernandez, 48, and Dana Kimberly Oviatt, 44, for a secondary inspection of their recreational vehicle when they entered the port from Mexico. A search revealed 431 pounds of marijuana hidden behind compartments in the RV's bathroom and rear wall. The drugs and vehicle were seized and the couple turned over to Immigration & Customs Enforcement for investigation.

On Sunday, September 30, USBP agents assigned to the Ajo Station seized 1,481 pounds of marijuana abandoned in the desert near the village of Santa Cruz on the Tohono O'odham Nation. Local agents also assisted agents from the Casa Grande Station and deputies from the Pinal County Sheriff's Department in seizing 1,663 pounds of abandoned marijuana found in a Suburban concealed by brush. The vehicle was also seized.

On Monday, October 1, Phoenix-area couple Sandra Dee Peart, 45, and Jason Burnett, 41, were referred to a secondary inspection of a trailer behind their Ford truck as they entered the port of entry. Officers discovered 573 pounds of marijuana. The drugs, truck, and trailer were seized and the couple turned over to ICE for investigation.

On Wednesday, October 3, Kinda Kim Dahl, 51, of Phoenix was referred to a secondary inspection of her Honda SUV. A drug detection dog helped officers locate 94 pounds of marijuana hidden throughout the vehicle. Dahl was turned over to ICE for investigation.

Also on Wednesday, Miami residents Valerie Anne Stewart, 32, and Kenneth Leroy McDaniel, 49, were referred for secondary inspection of their Ford. Officers found 34 pounds of marijuana inside an ice chest and a spare tire. The drugs and vehicle were seized and the couple turned over to Pima County Sheriff's Department for prosecution.

Following the line of duty death of USBP agent Nicholas Ivie, CBP deputy commissioner David Aguilar said in part, "Agent Ivie died in the line of duty, protecting our nation against those who threaten our way of life... Our thoughts and prayers are with Agent Ivie's family and friends in this difficult time."

Students, parents urged to utilize intersession help at AUSD

Superintendent Dr. Robert Dooley has announced the Ajo Unified School District's second fall academic intersession will begin Monday, October 15. The program, he said, is designed to help students who are struggling in a minimum of one class academically, have yet to pass the AIMS, have not completed all of the class requirements during the first quarter of the 2012-13 academic year, or who are in any fashion in jeopardy of not graduating with their class. Classes will be held from 8 a.m. to noon through Thursday, October 18. Participation is free of charge to all Ajo High School students.

Students will be able to address academic needs in math, all language arts, and science.

"We want to guarantee that we have given our students the time and support to be academically successful," Dooley said. "There are not many remaining free educational opportunities in our culture, but this is one of them."

Parents of high school students who are being recommended for this program received notification last Thursday. "If parents have questions, or are unsure of whether their child would benefit from participation, they are encouraged to call the school office at 387-7601, and speak to Principal Brian MacKenzie, or Dr. Lauren Carriere," Dooley added.

"We plan to deliver this program again in the spring," he said, "but that program will be too late for students that see themselves academically challenged by the first-quarter work, and who need to pass the AIMS."

Last school year, there were three intersessions, one each during the fall, winter, and spring breaks. "We do not have the budget capacity to do all three again, but will focus on spring and fall," Dooley said. Last year's intersession support was one factor that contributed to the significant increase in the high school graduation rate, he believes.

Any supporter, parent, or student with questions about this opportunity is encouraged to call the school.

"Together, we can make this work for our students," Dooley added.

Forms available

The Ajo Copper News has developed forms for items such as births, obituaries, engagements, weddings, and graduations. The staff then writes the article using the information listed on the form. They encourage the use of these forms because important information is less likely to be left out.

Other people prefer to try their hand at writing. These pieces are edited to fit standard newspaper format and style.

Forms may be picked up at the newspaper office at 10 Pajaro; requested by writing to the Ajo Copper News, PO Box 39, Ajo, AZ 85321; or requested by e-mail to cunews@cunews.info online.

Organ Pipe safety was intern's topic

Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument had the benefit of a risk-management intern this summer to study actual and potential hazards for the public and employees. Melissa Leventhal conducted interviews with employees about their experiences and perceptions of safety, researched and compiled statistics and reviewed hundreds of visitor comments. The results of the research will help the monument communicate border safety to visitors and employees with realistic data.

Leventhal found the internship through the Student Conservation Association (SCA.) The National Park Service's Public Risk Management Program provided her with additional support and training. She was interested in the Public Risk Management Internship at Organ Pipe because she wanted to see how an issue as multifaceted as border safety could be dealt with from a public health perspective. During the course of her internship she learned how to evaluate the risks associated with illegal border traffic.

"This internship was an interesting professional and personal experience. I gained invaluable experience working with people and dealing with politics (NPS, national and international.) I learned to listen to the wide array of views and opinions inherent to a challenging and complex issue such as border safety," said Leventhal. "I am leaving Organ Pipe with a greater sense of direction and focus professionally."

Leventhal is a student at the University of Colorado/Denver where she is earning a master's degree in epidemiology, which is the study of the distribution of health problems and their causes or influences throughout a given population. She has worked as a student assistant at the Pediatric Injury Prevention, Education and Research Program at UC/D. She is originally from Cleveland, Ohio, and now lives in Denver, Colorado. She earned a bachelor's degree in psychology from Bard College at Simon's Rock in Great Barrington, Massachusetts.

St. Vincent's Thrift is back from break

Choices – they are nice to have but hard to make.

I can spend hours picking a shampoo, conditioner, or toothpaste. Eating out is a challenge, even though being a vegetarian does winnow down the menu, since I can't make up my mind what I want.

So, when my faithful old Blazer gave every indication it was ready to retire to a junkyard, the thought of choosing a new car threw me.

After I picked a dealership (Glenn Jones since they come to Ajo and – more importantly – advertise in this newspaper) I started going through their website. They have a lot of cars!

I narrowed it down a little bit and got in touch with Jesse and Arturo, the guys who came down last week, and they recommended some other cars. Jesse was even texting pictures of cars. That was helpful, but it also made my list bigger.

Then I texted my daughter & son-in-law, Paula and Joey. They looked at the pictures and descriptions and narrowed it down to their prime choices.

Next, I talked to some co-workers and my brother Hop.

Then I called my son Gery and, with Dee in the background saying "You don't want a manual if you've got back pain!" we reviewed even more cars.

Oddly enough, there was one car that made everyone's approval list. So, having successfully avoided making the choice myself, I drove over to Casa Grande last Saturday and bought it.

If you see a little dark silver 2010 Ford Focus with a happy driver, wave, it will probably be me. If I'm slow to wave back, it's just because I have to choose which hand to use.

Thank you to our friends for supporting our culinary efforts.

Carol Yokum opened last Thursday's WPCCC meeting as the chairman, replacing former councilor Debbie Morrow who resigned late last month from the board and the position.

Community center upgrades, school, law enforcement, & ISDA were WPCCC topics

The Western Pima County Community Council gathered for their October meeting last Thursday at the Walker Park community center.

Topics of discussion included a brief update on Ajo school, new GED directors, ISDA projects, county funding for Ajo and zoning news, Pima County Sheriff's Department and US Border Patrol reports, CofC efforts, and outreach programs at the health center.

Ajo school principal Brian MacKenzie talked about Homecoming activities, such as a larger-than-normal parade, parents' night, royalty crowning, and the traditional football and volleyball games for the week.

During the upcoming fall break, some students will be scheduled for extra academic help and some will retake national tests. MacKenzie mentioned the school board meetings set for Tuesday and Wednesday, October 9 and 10. As a member of the Las Artes GED board he introduced new director Tomás Kalmar.

Kalmar said he and his wife Bridget were honored to be asked to take over from Morgana Wallace-Cooper. He said his wife was not in attendance because she was busy preparing lesson plans for the next day's class. He said it has been a long adventure that brought them here from Vermont and he is looking forward to having coffee with any and all to "catch up on the latest gossip."

Tracy Taft, director of the International Sonoran Desert Alliance, talked about the National Endowment for the Arts' Our Town planning grant, pointing out that grants often become available at unexpected times. She said seizing the opportunity can be advantageous while at the same time perhaps seeming out of chronological order from the public's perspective. She reiterated that the current grant only covered planning proposals and there were no funds available at present for physical changes. (In-depth reports about Our Town planning and other ISDA efforts are scheduled for upcoming issues of the Ajo Copper News.)

Deb Miller of Pima County Supervisor Sharon Bronson's office wowed the audience with news that the county board of supervisors had approved $365,000 in county funds for upgrades to the community center at Walker Park. Improvements will include conversion from evaporative cooling to air conditioning, restroom renovations, ceiling and floor repairs, installation of electric window shades, roof ductwork, interior and exterior repainting, and parking lot repairs. Miller said there is no emergency generator planned for the community center. She announced a toll-free number to the county switchboard: 1-800-775-7462, noting that callers can use the number to be transferred to any department within the county system.

Lt. BJ Clements, commander of the Ajo District of the Pima County Sheriff's Department, reported that deputies are being equipped with upgraded less-than-lethal third-generation Tasers®, which, he said, will keep deputies and arrestees safer. The new Tasers are being purchased with drug-seizure money, and the old Tasers will be refurbished for other law-enforcement agencies.

Three new deputies report for duty in Ajo in mid-November, according to Clements. He said that will bring the district up to full staffing. He mentioned that all deputies in training get sprayed with pepper spray and "tased" so they know what it feels like. Responding to a question about abandoned vehicles, Clements said they should be reported by the public so deputies can run the plates or the VIN. The district will contact the owner, and the vehicle can be towed after 48 hours.

Kelly Graham, Border Patrol agent and community relations officer for the Ajo Station, said the moment of silence for Nicholas Ivie at the start of the meeting meant much to the Border Patrol family. Graham talked about two recent drug seizures by Ajo Station agents that netted more than 3,000 pounds. He said it is anticipated the new Ajo station will be operational by the end of October.

Bety Allen, director of the Ajo District Chamber of Commerce, gave a report on activities. She talked about a business Facebook training session and said the CoC is working with other local organizations on creating an ongoing community calendar, noting that anyone can share information with the CofC for posting on the website. A t-shirt design contest is in the works, according to Allen. She said the design should reflect Ajo in some way, such as with Spanish colonial styling, culturally, environmentally, or socially. For more details, call the CofC at 387-7742.

Goli Mostoufi, outreach supervisor at Desert Senita Community Health Center, talked about a Family Fall Fun Festival coming soon to the Plaza. She said last year's festival drew more than 200 people. So far this year's Olsens IGA has donated 120 pumpkins, and organizers are seeking at least 80 more from local businesses.

Meeting notices & press releases are welcome

Local organizations are welcome to submit meeting notices and press releases for other events for publication in the Ajo Copper News.

"Some people think we require groups to always buy an ad. Basically, we don't require an ad unless something is being sold or an admission fee is being charged. A short paragraph saying when you are meeting is considered news and there is no charge for that," said editor Gabrielle David.

Turn in press releases and meeting notices at the newspaper office at 10 Pajaro or e-mail the information to cunews@cunews.info, being sure to include the organization name, when and where the meeting or event is, what is happening, whether it is open to the public or for members only, and give a contact name & number in case the newspaper staff needs to get more information.

For events where there is an admission fee or items are being sold, organizations may be asked to buy an ad, but the press release is still often used for an article that supplements the information given in the ad.

Second Saturday will feature art

It's time again for Second Saturday with several free activities for the community. Two special attractions this month: a book-signing and art piñata show, and a personal power card class.

Events begin with a farmers' market in the Plaza from 9 to 11 a.m.

Local artists will be painting starting at 9 a.m. and will show their works about noon in the Plaza.

Hop David will be signing his newest coloring book, "Surreal Visions", while paper artists Gery Krehbiel & Deanna Neff will show their art piñatas at the Copper News Book Store, 10 Pajaro, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. David's coloring book features two scenes from Ajo. Krehbiel & Neff's papier maché art often has a Day of the Dead theme, though they also create custom pieces such as over-sized pacifiers for baby showers.

At 10 a.m. a guided tour of the Plaza and the Curley School will start at the Plaza flagpole.

Visitors are invited to the Cabeza Prieta National Wildlife Refuge visitor center, 1611 N. Second Avenue, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to celebrate National Wildlife Refuge Week with activities and displays.

The clay studio in the historic Manual Arts Building on the Curley School campus will be open to visitors from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mari Kaestle, an artist, designer, and teacher, will hold a class on personal power cards at 401 W. Esperanza from 2-4 p.m. Kaestle says, "A personal power card is a positive visual affirmation/inspiration/reminder of the good and powerful feelings we have about ourselves 'inside.' The visual elements of a personal power card may include colors, symbols, numbers, animals, plants, flowers, elements of nature, and human representations that we connect to - sometimes on an unconscious level. In the class, there will be an ample selection of materials and media to inspire and use for creating the personal visualization."

At 5:30 p.m. a sunset tour of Childs Mountain will caravan to the top. Reservations must be made by calling 387-6483 before 4:30 p.m. on Thursday.

Sea otters

For more information, or to place an event on the next Second Saturday calendar, call the International Sonoran Desert Alliance at 387-3570.

The sea otter does not have a layer of blubber to keep it warm as many other marine mammals do. Its fur coat is all it has to keep it warm.

Road resurfacing has begun in some parts of town served by Ajo Improvement Company. Contractor-operated heavy equipment grinds off a top layer of asphalt and sends it via conveyor belt to a leading dump truck while street-sweepers and other equipment bring up the rear in a well-orchestrated demonstration of teamwork.

Plan comments show diversity, community commitment to design

With well over 400 comments on preliminary suggestions for the future design of the 13-plus Ajo Historic Townsite acres owned by the International Sonoran Desert Alliance, one thing is clear: residents are not afraid to speak their piece – although they're not nearly so anxious to claim credit for what they say. The majority of the written comments made were unsigned, although the 84 website submissions were attributed.

That's okay, however, because the intent of the process was to get general community input and specific reactions to the plan developed through an "Our Town" grant from the National Endowment for the Arts.

ISDA was successful at that goal, and opinions ranged in flavor from "Leave our Plaza alone!" to "I love the (suggested) new improvements."

A substantial portion of comments had to do with the renderings of entryway and site lettering, and most of it was negative, a fact not lost on either ISDA or the architectural team consulting on the project. By the end of last week, draft drawings with significantly altered versions were offered for review.

A lot of comments had to do with two options presented for Plaza bandshell areas. While many people questioned the need for, and placement and design of either option, other commentators welcomed the idea of a specific venue for performances.

Others questioned the expense involved in watering new trees and other plantings and ISDA's capacity to care for and maintain them, while the counterpoints were made of welcomed shade and a more parklike environment. A two-way traffic pattern proposal for the streets around the Plaza was both condemned and praised, while the concept of using pavers and adding new walkways brought support as well as concerns about how it might affect parking availability. There was consistent support for the revitalization of the theater and the recreation hall on the north side.

Last spring, more than 100 people took part in a series of public meetings as part of the design process seeking to creatively look at the use of public space, and the revitalization of the area from the Plaza depot to the back edge of the Curley School campus. The $100,000 grant, together with a similar match from ISDA and its partners, the county and the University of Arizona in money and in-kind services, provided the initial funding for this intensive community process. ISDA was one of five organizations in the country awarded the grant.

Prior to the first community meeting, following the announcement of the grant, ISDA staff noted that "The plans which are developed by the community won't sit on the shelf ... we are dedicated to implementing them."

That implementation will require money that ISDA does not at present have, Tracy Taft, executive director of the organization, said at a meeting of the Western Pima County Community Council earlier this month. See related story. Nor are the preliminary designs offered for comment the final designs. The hundreds of comments will be reviewed and utilized as the proposal is refined, and community input will continue to be solicited. Taft noted that the NEA planning grant was a rare opportunity to do just that: plan for the future.

"We were privileged to be one of the five sites chosen for this program – the grants could have been awarded in a lot of communities, but Ajo was given the opportunity," said Taft. "This has been a very complex process and Maria [Gmuca] has done an incredibly fine job of coordinating it. It's required composure, equanimity, organization, and good spirits to deal with so many differing opinions and feelings. We hope that what comes out of it will be helpful as suggestions – next year, five years from now, a decade or more into the future."

Letter to the editor Ajo has other needs

Editor:
I agree with the sentiments expressed in Rose Cameron's letter to the editor in one of the recent Ajo Copper News editions.

I also don't think that we need to be spending $100,000 of grant money to renovate the Ajo Plaza. I believe that there are other things that are much more in the need of our attention in Ajo such as the following:

1. The Ajo Curley school grounds are pitiful looking. There are weeds all around the complex. With a bit of money those weeds could be removed and the flowerbeds filled in the crushed rock with a color that goes well with the rest of the exterior. This would not cost very much and would go a long way in beautifying an Ajo monument.

2. There are numerous properties in Ajo, especially up and down Solana that need to be demolished. Most of these properties are not inhabited and create a terrible eyesore for both people that are just passing through Ajo as well as residents of Ajo. Most of these properties have been in this deplorable state for years. Why has the town or county not done something about removing these eyesores and returning Ajo to the beautiful little town it once was?

A soft opening of the hardware section is planned for October 22, according to Olsen, while a grand opening is set for mid-November.

"Not only do we now have a complete supermarket but a complete hardware store as well," said Olsen. "We'll be adding additional departments in the future, such as builders' supplies."

Olsens launches online classes for employees

Olsens IGA has launched an online learning program available to all its employees, an opportunity made possible through the IGA Coca-Cola Institute.

More than 90 industry-specific online courses are available through the institute. The first five courses to be offered by Olsens to its employees are Introduction to the Independent Grocers Association, two courses in customer service and professionalism, Food Safety and Sanitation Basics, and Sexual Harassment awareness.

"I am pleased to offer this program to our employees," said Don Olsen. "We are committed to the finest customer service and we achieve that through product knowledge and staff training."

Upon completion of the coursework, employees will have the opportunity to take advance courses focused on aspects of specific grocery departments such as meat, deli, produce, and bakery. Employees will be rewarded with gift certificates as they complete courses with passing grades.

"We're happy to have the opportunity to participate in this program, which helps us better ourselves in our respective positions," added Maribel Reyes, store manager.

"Vision and hearing are fine. Now turn around and we'll check your sense of humor."

Ajo students were eager to learn about university, college, and trade school opportunities.

Students get info about schools

Dr. Lauren Carriere wears a number of hats in her work at the Ajo Unified School District. The one she wore Monday was that of student success coach. Much of the work she does on behalf of the high school students focuses upon their successful graduation from high school and giving individualized assistance to them in the planning for post-high school educational opportunities.

On Monday, 185 high school students and middle school students in the AVID (Advancement Via Individual Determination) program were able to visit with representatives of four community colleges, three state universities, and two technical schools in the school gym. "When students have the opportunity to visit personally with college representatives, we believe it removes some of their fears about registering for classes in a large institution far from home," said Carriere.

On Sunday, October 14, students and families will have another opportunity to meet with college and university recruiters. Carriere is facilitating a trip to Phoenix for families and students to visit with higher education institution representatives between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. at the Phoenix Convention Center. More than 200 colleges will be represented at this free event. For information, visit www.gotomyncf.com.

Carriere is also working with community college financial aid staff to provide information about financial aid to high school students and their parents. "We plan to have this event one evening in November," she said. For further information, contact Carriere at 387-4703.

Red & White fete is nearly upon us

The Red and White Weekend reunion is just around the corner, and the Friends of Ajo are expecting the October 19-20 event to be the success it has been the past two years.

The first event will be a mixer Friday, October 19, at the Curley School auditorium, starting at 6 p.m. and continuing to 11 p.m. Doors will open at 5:30 p.m. with a modest admission charge to help offset expenses. A More than 300 people have attended each of the last two mixers.

The Saturday activities on October 20 will have two venues during the day: an informal round of golf at the Ajo Country Club starting at 8 a.m., and activities in the Plaza beginning at 10 a.m.

Saturday night will be highlighted with a dance sponsored by the Friends of Ajo at the Mocambo, featuring former Ajo resident George Alegria Jr. as the guest DJ. There will also be live music elsewhere in town.

Organ Pipe reopened scenic drive

Ajo Mountain Drive at Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument is reopened after being closed since September 10.

The monsoon storms arrived in mid-July bringing much-needed rain, said Organ Pipe staff. As the monsoon season progressed the Ajo Mountains experienced a number of typical storms, and a few were on the rare side dumping significant amounts of water which moved rocks and debris through the washes in Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument.

The maintenance crew had just finished repairing Ajo Mountain Drive from the prior storm when the big storm hit in the evening on September 10. The rising water level in washes was enough to close Highway 85.

Rain gauges recorded torrential rains. At 8 p.m. that night the gauge at Alamo Canyon recorded 2.71 inches and Bull Pasture was 2.1 inches. By 10 p.m. over 3.5 inches had fallen at Alamo Canyon and almost 2.5 inches at Bull Pasture. The water had no time to seep into the ground and produced flooding.

Organ Pipe staff said an enormous amount of debris came down Alamo Wash during the night with a significant amount of water and debris coming from the North Fork and from Tilton Wash, which drains Arch and Boulder Canyons and the east-facing slopes of the Diablo Mountains.

That night, a portion of the flood flow turned south through the Diablo Mountains and crossed the highway at milepost 66.5. Rubble can plug up the old channel and can force water to flow in new directions at a number of points along the channel in Alamo Wash. The flooding created some new channels and deepened older ones.

Kuakatch Wash also changed its channel with 520 feet of the barbed wire fence on the east boundary and all riparian trees removed by the flood. The channel is changing where it crosses the highway, but it is changing more elsewhere upstream and downstream.

Staff at Organ Pipe say the average rainfall in September is less than one inch and the yearly rainfall average is 8.8 inches. Since January 1, Alamo Canyon has received over 18 inches of rain and Bull Pasture over 17 inches of rain.

Sharon Bronson

PIMA COUNTY SUPERVISOR - DISTRICT 3

WORKING HARD FOR US

We need elected officials that make a difference -- not politicians making statements.

As our Supervisor, Sharon has made a difference in improving the quality of life for the residents of Ajo.

Protecting Homeowners - Today, the taxes levied by Pima County are at historically low levels. While school districts, fire districts and community college districts have increased taxes, Pima County taxes are less than they were in 2007.

Fiscal Accountability - Pima County has reduced its workforce by 12% over the past five years and its budget is 17% smaller than it was in 2007. Pima County has divested the services that the private sector does better, including the direct delivery of healthcare.

Community Projects - Sharon fought for investments in Ajo. Below are some examples:

- Curley School Renovation - Sharon led Pima County's efforts to renovate Curley School into 30 affordable living spaces for artisans and other in home businesses. This project has led to significant economic activity in Ajo.
- Second Avenue Bridge Reconstruction - Through the Pima County Flood Control District, Sharon ensured that the reconstruction of this bridge was completed. This project alleviated flooding in adjacent neighborhoods.
- The Ajo Historic Train Depot Rehabilitation - Working the with the International Sonoran Desert Alliance and other federal and state agencies, Sharon ensured that Pima County is a partner in preserving this significant historic community asset so that it can used to create future economic opportunity.

This election, vote for a Pima County Supervisor that works hard for Ajo.

Under intense pressure, Martin Alvarez (24) made the catch for a long gain against Salt River. Robert Sorrels photo

Homecoming game - so close!

By Robert Sorrels

Salt River 50, Ajo 44

Ajo's great offense delighted a big homecoming crowd. Unfortunately, the defense couldn't stop Salt River's unusual dual set-back attack and the Raiders came up short. Ajo, led by Billy Glass' rushing and Manny George's passing, amassed 400 yards' offense but also had 4 fumbles and 2 interceptions. It was exciting to the last second.

Salt River scored first using the play that worked repeatedly: a running back outside as the line contained Ajo's defense. The Raiders struck back as Glass got his first TD. The 2-point conversion failed starting a gamelong pattern. The Warriors came right back to lead 16-6.

Following the kickoff a Warrior interception killed the Raider drive at the 20. Salt River continuing their roll out, give or go offense, mixed with the quarterback keeper soon led 24-12. Ajo crept back as Abiam Campa (65 yards rushing) scored, but Salt River scoring on a return and a long drive led 30-18 at half.

Halftime festivities were entertaining as the freshman class - in a first - won the best float award. Lindsey Leon and Ralphie Rendon were named Queen and King.

Ajo came back hot whittling at the gap. Martin Alvarez scored and Devon Rendon caught his 3rd conversion of the season. Salt River scored again, but Glass returned the kickoff 65 yards for 6. The Raider defense held on the next possession and Felix Corona (44 yards rushing) took one in for a touchdown. Glass got his 4th TD on a George pass. With 4:00 to play, the score was 44-44.

The Warriors devoured time marching down field to score with 1:30 left. Ajo pinned deep on the kickoff, moved to mid-field. Three Hail Mary passes fell incomplete as time ran out.

Glass led the Raider offense with 126 yards rushing, 3 catches for 72 yards, and a return for 4 TDs. George went 10 of 14 in the air for 113 yards and 2 scores. All total, Ajo had 261 yards rushing and 130 in the air.

The key statistic, however, was Salt River scored on 7 of 10 possessions. Also key: Ajo made 1 of 7 conversions. Coach Brian English noted later, "We're just not tackling. We as coaches have to take responsibility. We're not teaching our guys how to take the man down. Still, it was an incredible game and they played their hearts out. This is a young team and we're only going to get better."

Lady Raiders' winning streak has ended

By Robert Sorrels

Eloy 3, Ajo 0

In a disappointing performance, Eloy swept the Raiders Tuesday night. The loss was painful, as Ajo had beaten Eloy on its home court. The Ladies' hallmark focus and communication faltered. Particularly troublesome were the Raiders' 11 service errors and erratic defense.

The 1st set started close as neither team could establish an offense. Ajo's only lead came at 12-11. Eloy then went on 8- and 4-point runs as the Raider defense sputtered. Eloy led 22-15. Audrey Gilmartin's service started a strong rally as Ajo closed to 20-22. Intense exchanges left the teams tied at 23 when Ajo lost service and a return, falling 23-25.

The 2nd set was even for 10 points as the teams traded service and return. Eloy rolled off 4 straight then another 6 as the Ladies didn't position and communicate on defense. Down 15-23, Marissa Harris tried to rally as Ajo won 4, but an Eloy kill made it set point. Eloy then finished it off 25-19.

The 3rd set was bitterly contested with the score seesawing based mostly on each team's service. Ajo hung on but a total of 6 service faults doomed them and they lost set and match, 24-26.

Antelope 3, Ajo 0

The Raiders traveled to Antelope Thursday facing its second consecutive Division IV team. Antelope hammered Ajo 25-14 in the 1st set. The Raiders had 4 service errors and poor defense. Waking up in the 2nd, the teams traded points with Ajo getting its only lead at 12-8. Antelope then scored 6 in a row. Ajo hung on till 16-17, but the Rams punched over 5 to take command. Down 19-24, Cinnamon Robles had 2 strong serves including her second ace, but Ajo lost match point on the rally falling 21-25.

The 3rd set showed the old Raider intensity. Erika Salcido, who played big all night, had two service runs, but Ajo again let Antelope get momentum giving up 8 and 6 to consecutive servers. Down 9-16, the Raiders fought back aided by Salcido's 4-point run to reach 20-24. Robles again brought the Raiders to 23-24, but an official's call at the net was set and match as Ajo fell 23-25.

Coach Ticha Mancilla noted, "It was a tough week, but the girls started to show their strength against Antelope. We'll be back."

RAIDER OF THE WEEK

By Robert Sorrels

Senior lineman Jake Lopez was honored for his outstanding defensive play against Patagonia. In addition to multiple tackles, he had 5 sacks. Jake plays football and basketball. Asked why he plays, he lit up. "I love sports! There's so much energy on the field." His favorite play last week? "Had to have been the sacks. They were great."

Being a senior helped Jake realize he needed to focus on academics. "I'm about average. I really wanted to play this year, so I've gotten better at communicating and getting help. I want to go to a university and you need good grades for that."

Like many seniors Jake is still deciding what to do after graduation. "I'd really like to work with kids, maybe coach. I might become a teacher. For sure I want to go to college."

A fan of the "golden oldies" like the Temptations and James Brown, Jake claims, "That was really great music."

Asked if he does anything special before a game, he shrugged. "I just get ready to play. Get my head on and get out there."

Jake's mother is Mary Jane Lopez.
