While the exterior colors have raised some eyebrows, color design was based on existing colors found in Ajo structures, according to project personnel.

Board okays hires & activity policies

The Ajo Unified School District board met in regular session Wednesday, October 10, with a short and quickly dispatched agenda.

In personnel action, the board approved the hiring of Luisa Williams and Arlene Dreeste as certified substitute teachers. It also okayed the employment of the following teachers for the inter-session program taking place this week: Joel Mallillin, math; Judith Bullock and Shanna Sellers, English; Mercy Arancon, math and special education; Lourdes Ferrer, math; and Rufina Alcanzo, English and special education.

The board signed off on extra pay positions for Mallillin and Pamela Kasayan, as co-advisors for the freshmen class; and coaching positions for Arturo Vega, junior high boys basket ball, and Brisy Nunez, junior high girls basket ball; Amanda Ballard, high school track; Dave Emmers, high school baseball, and Jose Yon, assistant baseball; and Brad Harvey and Julie Tiell, co-golf. Angelina Valenzuela was approved as a volunteer assistant softball coach, as was Mark Coyle as volunteer assistant track coach.

In signing off on its declaration of curricular and instructional alignment, an annual process through which the district affirms it is in alignment with state education standards, the board was told by Superintendent Robert Dooley that the district's status had been enhanced by its ratings improvement.

The board also accepted the superintendent's proposal for extracurricular fees which help fund sports and other activities. The costs approved are $1 for first-through fifth-grade students, and $35 for sixth- through 12-graders participating in one or more sports or activities. A family plan priced at $50 was also approved for families with more than one student participant.

Audience member Lito Castillo expressed his concern that the expense of the extracurricular fees would impact the community and dissuade participation. Even with the fees, said Dooley, the income does not cover the total cost of the $120,000 sports budget, and additional costs include uniforms, travel, costs of officials and other personnel.

Following the approved motion to establish the fees, the board approved the means to waive those fees for financially burdened families, based on the discretion of Dooley and Principal Brian MacKenzie.

In his superintendent's report, Dooley reported progress on changing the methodology for pre-testing assessments. He also advised the board that classroom repairs from the September storm damage were nearing completion, and that the cafeteria audit had been successfully completed.

In the call to the audience, Castillo also expressed concern about playground safety and supervision during athletic events.

The board's next study session is scheduled for Tuesday, November 13, with a regular meeting Wednesday, November 14.

Footprint records need to be claimed or destroyed

Desert Senita Community Health Center is putting the finishing touches on its conversion to digital recordkeeping and needs to clear out old paper files, including a collection of records with newborn footprints and the mother's thumb print. Most of these records date back to the New Cornelia Hospital-era and extend to present day.

Anyone who thinks they may have a footprint/thumbprint record on file at DSCHC may formally request it by calling the health center at 387-5654, or by stopping by in person by December 1. These records will be given free to the individual the record is for or, if a minor, to a parent or guardian. A request-of-information form is required.

"We feel that some people might cherish having these old footprint and thumbprint records, so we want to offer them to those who have them before they are disposed of," said Jane Canon of DSCHC.

In other health center news, DSCHC is preparing for the busier winter months and will be returning to 20-minute appointments.

"As a community member, you can help us better serve the whole community by simply being on time and coming prepared to your appointment with a list of any questions for your provider team," said health center CEO Fran Driver. "Desert Senita Community Health Center looks forward to working with all our patients."

Red & White Weekend open to everyone in town

Following close on the heels of Ajo High School's Homecoming, the Ajo Red & White Weekend will bring many AHS alumni home for a full weekend of activities. It's not just for alumni, though, say the Friends of Ajo who are organizing the event. They hope everyone in town will turn out for many of the events, especially the celebration in the Plaza on Saturday.

"This year's Red and White promises to be the best-attended to date," said John Peters. "Ajo has not had 3 venues with live music simultaneously in many, many years. The Friends of Ajo are very pleased that both of our events grow in popularity every year. The Friends of Ajo plan to continue hosting the All Ajo Reunion in Phoenix every April, and the Red and White weekend in Ajo every October for years to come."

Peters emphasized the event is for the entire community. "Our main objectives in hosting this event are for the enjoyment of the residents of Ajo, and also that the merchants in Ajo will benefit financially. We hope that the people of Ajo will consider attending the various events we have planned," he said.

Friday

Things will start this Friday, October 19, at the Curley School Auditorium with a no-host mixer where people may buy finger foods and alcoholic or non-alcoholic beverages. There is an admission fee. Priminition will be playing for a dance at the Mocambo.

Saturday

On Saturday, golfers can hit the greens at the golf course at 8 a.m. For information, call Lonnie Alvarez at 602-510-1783 or the Ajo Community Golf Course at 387-5011.

A community celebration will be held in the Plaza. The car show, with about 60 vehicles, will start at 9 a.m. A flag-raising at 10 a.m. by the Pima County Sheriff's Department will kick off the rest of the Plaza events. There will be 30 vendors and a beer garden. Entertainment will include the Ballet Folklorico de Ajo dancers, Broken Toyz, and other events.

Susan Gilbert, AHS Class of 1964, will lead a tour of the Curley School at 9 a.m. starting on the steps to the auditorium.

A Plaza buildings renovation tour, led by Tracy Taft of ISDA, will start at 2 p.m. in front of what old-timer's will still call PD Mercantile next to what is now Cheep Ole's.

The mine lookout will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and the Ajo Historical Society will open the museum from noon to 4 p.m. Both are free but donations are gratefully accepted.

Those with energy left can dance the night away to the DJ music of George Alegria Jr. at the Mocambo, Priminition at the Hut, or the Desert Knights at the Elks.

Since alcoholic beverages will be available at several events, the organizers have arranged for the Red & White shuttle from Ajo Transportation to be available for free Friday and Saturday nights and low-cost dial-a-ride service will be available during the day. The organizers urge people taking advantage of the late-night shuttle service to tip the driver. "Please don't drink & drive!" said Peters. The number to call for the shuttle is 602-291-2782. For dial-a-ride service, call 387-6559.

Sunday

Closing the weekend down, leaving time for travelers to get home, a Sunday breakfast will be offered at the American Citizens Social Club (Chu Chu). There will be a modest charge for the breakfast.

For information about fees, times, and other weekend events, consult the ads in this issue.

Participants are asked to bring a hat, gloves, sunscreen, and drinking water. To learn more, call Peter & Nina Altshul at 387-3132.

Depot rehab begins Tuesday

The rehabilitation of the landmark Ajo Train Depot will begin next Tuesday, October 23, according to Jim Wilcox, senior project manager for the International Sonoran Desert Alliance, owner of the property. Wilcox said ISDA received approval from the county late last week to begin the work.

The original grant application was submitted in the summer of 2008, with the award announced by the Arizona Department of Transportation award in the summer of 2009.

Wilcox said the Pima County historic staff has been very supportive and helpful in keeping the project moving forward. G & G Specialty Contractors of Phoenix has been awarded the four-month construction contract, which includes all new systems for the depot and painting of the depot and the arcades around until they meet the north and south Plazas.

ISDA will lease the Depot to the Ajo Chamber of Commerce which will operate it as Ajo's tourism information center, said Wilcox. The north bay of the Depot will be restored to the original open-air, covered waiting area, he added.

"Moving the information center to the Plaza should enhance Ajo's appeal to tourists and make finding information easier, and encourage tourists to relax and enjoy the Plaza," Wilcox said.

12. If you receive federal funds, are you allowed to charge one two or three prices for the same living quarters depending on your qualifications?

As you can see I have no facts, only what I hear and what I read in the Ajo paper.

I hope someone has the answers, I would greatly appreciate them; if not maybe the Ajo Copper News would investigate in an unbiased manner and come up with the facts.

Letter to the editor Reader has a few questions

Editor:

The Plaza is in the Historical Registry according to the sign posted there. I do not have any facts and would like for someone who has, to share them. My questions are...

1. It is my understanding if the property has been put in the registry it cannot be changed or it will lose the Historical Status. True or False?
2. Who owns the property from the old train station in the Plaza to the back of the Curley School campus?
3. Who hired the Conway School of Landscape Design in Massachusetts? Whom were they paid by and how much? You could or could not find a Company in Arizona?
4. In a letter to the editor of the Copper News 26 Sept., it stated that ISDA has no plans to change the Plaza. Who hired the architect in the first place? If the Plaza doesn't belong to ISDA will the real owner please stand up and be accounted?
5. Will the Landscape Company get another payment for the second drawing? Will the final say come from the Massachusetts Company, what we in Ajo will have to live with?
6. Why can't the owners of the Plaza and Curley School clean up the grounds they own? A professional landscaper lives just across the street from Curley School and would probably be glad to talk about the job of pulling weeds, cutting, trimming trees, bushes, and picking up all the trash. Maybe the residents of Curley School will be willing to do the job. Would they donate a few hours?
7. Will the bandstand go or stay?
8. What percentage of the grant money does ISDA get to keep and what percentage goes to the project?
9. Will the total of all comments including e-mails, phone calls, letters and remarks on the pictures be published in the Copper News?
10. I was under the impression the bells were never to be removed from Curley School. Why were they moved?
11. Are grants the only financial

Legion sponsors Boys, Girls State

The local American Legion and Legion Ladies Auxiliary are looking for politically minded high school juniors to apply for the one-week government orientation programs known as Boys State and Girls State.

This year the Legion plans to sponsor two young men for Boys State and the Legion Ladies Auxiliary one female for Girls State, according to Harvey Yoos, commander of the American Legion in Ajo. He noted that the cost per student for the program is about $500.

"Boys State and Girls State are preparatory programs that familiarize students with the workings of our local, state, and federal government," said Yoos. "The importance of the program can be seen in the fact that almost everyone involved in the political scene today attended either Boys State or Girls State as a high school student."

Applicants will be judged by their academic achievements and involvement in the community, noted Yoos. Judges will make their decisions late this year or early next, and the weeklong programs will take place after the school year at Arizona State University.

Participants play roles as politicians and make the same hard decisions as their real-life counterparts, such as how to balance a state budget and prioritizing state expenditures, which often means some government programs must be cut due to a lack of funds.

Applications are available at the Ajo school front office. Yoos said the school is working closely with the Legion and encouraging students to look into the program.

On a similar note, the Legion will sponsor one or more students to attend a weeklong law enforcement academy this summer. Yoos said the Ajo school also has applications for this.

Halloween parade will be a little later

Responding to pleas to start the traditional Halloween Parade of Costumes later in the day to allow parents a bit more time to get their kids in costumes, the Xi Gamma Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi has announced this year's parade will start at 4:45 p.m. on Wednesday, October 31.

Cemetery to be cleaned Nov. 7

The Ajo Cemetery Association is looking for volunteers to help with weeding and cleaning the grounds at the cemetery on Wednesday, November 7, from 2 to 5 p.m. Wednesday is slated to be an early-release day from Ajo school.

The local Girl Scout troop will be on hand, according to Debbie Morrow of the ACA, and other organizations are more than welcome to participate. Cold drinking water will be supplied by Douglass Funeral Home.

Morrow notes that the Ajo Community Cemetery is operated by volunteers and donations are used for maintenance and repairs, not for perpetual care.

"Families are encouraged to attend to the graves of their ancestors," she said. "Everyone is encouraged to come and bring a rake!"

Rob & Bety Allen are the recipients of the Ajo Garden Club's yard of the month award for October. Their residence is near the top of the hill on Rocalla Avenue. "It has been a big project just to keep up with the growing palo verde, mesquite, and ironwood trees," said Bety Allen. "We still have a lot of work to do, but it is worth it. We love to see all the birds, cottontail rabbits, and butterflies stop for a drink of water and enjoy the shade and breeze! We love our place and we definitely enjoy living here."

Early balloting now under way

Several Ajo-area voters have already cast their ballots for the November general election through the vote-by-mail program.

Those using the program are advised to read the directions on the mail-in ballot carefully, use only black or a dark blue pen to mark the ballot, and use the envelopes provided.

Those who want to cast a write-in vote can check www.pima.gov/elections for a list of write-in candidates or call 520-724-6830. Only votes for officially recognized write-in candidates will be counted.

There are no local offices listed on the ballot for the Ajo area. Though there were open races for seats on the school board and health service district, there were not more candidates than seats available so those nominees were automatically elected.

Voters may check the status of their early ballot at www.recorder.pima.gov by clicking on the link Early Ballot Status.

For more information, call 520-724-4330.

County health has flu vaccine available for kids

Pediatric doses of flu vaccine are now available at the Pima County Health Department's office in Ajo, 120 W. Estrella. A clinic will be held on November 7; those interested in having children immunized should call 387-7206.

The vaccine is administered free for children not covered by insurance or AHCCCS. The age-range for the pediatric flu vaccine is newborn through the 18th year (up to the 19th birthday).

The Ajo office does not have any adult flu shots available, though they do have some other vaccines for both children and adults.

The Tdap vaccination, which protects against diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis (whooping cough) is recommended for adults who work with or are around children on a frequent basis.

The county health department offers many services, including vaccinations and free confidential pregnancy testing.

Library has movie and a celebration

The library has many ongoing programs, which include Stay and Play on Wednesdays at 9 a.m., bilingual family story-time on Thursdays at 10:30 a.m., and after-school homework help Mondays through Thursdays.

On Friday, October 19, at 9:30 a.m., there will be a film about a girl named Bella, who marries a vampire named Edward. They conceive a child together and experience complications with a werewolf named Jacob. This film is rated PG 13.

On Wednesday, October 24, at 3:30 p.m., patrons can celebrate Dia de los Muertos at the library by decorating sugar skulls. The old Aztec tradition has participants decorating and keeping sugar skulls in remembrance of deceased family members. This program is part of Nuestras Raices, a celebration of Mexican-American authors, arts and culture. Space is limited; sign up in advance by calling or visiting the library.

More information about library activities can be found in the library's ad elsewhere in this issue.

A few members of the Ajo High School Class of 2001 reunited at Walker Park following the Homecoming Parade and the game. Out of 29 graduates, three were able to attend and were joined by a fourth classmate who is an honorary member of their graduating class. Shown here are Anders Peterson, Karly (Camarillo) Weber, Kayla (Hoch) Lowery, and Nelson Lewis.

Peterson says the majority of the class has spread across the world in the eleven years since graduation. Out of the four attendees, Weber is the only class member residing in Ajo. Lewis came from Maricopa, Peterson from Tucson, and Lowery from North Carolina. The class hopes to meet again for the 20th graduation anniversary in 2021. Photo courtesy Anders

PIMA COUNTY SUPERVISOR-DISTRICT 3
WORKING HARD FOR US

We need elected officials that make a difference -- not politicians making statements.

As our Supervisor, Sharon has made a difference in improving the quality of life for the residents of Ajo.

Protecting Homeowners - Today, the taxes levied by Pima County are at historically low levels. While school districts, fire districts and community college districts have increased taxes, Pima County taxes are less than they were in 2007.

Fiscal Accountability - Pima County has reduced its workforce by 12% over the past five years and it's budget is 17% smaller than it was in 2007. Pima County has divested the services that the private sector does better, including the direct delivery of healthcare.

Community Projects - Sharon fought for investments in Ajo. Below are some examples:

- Curley School Renovation - Sharon led Pima County's efforts to renovate Curley School into 30 affordable living spaces for artisans and other in home businesses. This project has led to significant economic activity in Ajo.
- Second Avenue Bridge Reconstruction - Through the Pima County Flood Control District, Sharon ensured that the reconstruction of this bridge was completed. This project alleviated flooding in adjacent neighborhoods.
- The Ajo Historic Train Depot Rehabilitation - Working the with the International Sonoran Desert Alliance and other federal and state agencies, Sharon ensured that Pima County is a partner in preserving this significant historic community asset so that it can used to create future economic opportunity.

With live entertainment, veggie seed and transplant give-aways, and cool weather, what more could a gardening enthusiast ask for? More than 50 people attended the fall gardening festival put on by the Ajo Center for Sustainable Agriculture on October 6. Held in the Curley School courtyard, the event featured a nutritious potluck, music by the newly formed Ajo Jazz Orchestra, and the distribution of more than $1000 worth of compost, seeds, and seedlings.

Ajo CSA's backyard gardening program is entering its third year and has helped with the installation of at least 30 gardens in the area, according to CSA representative Peter Altshul. He said the center offers support to anyone interested in gardening and in seeking sustainable solutions for Ajo's food system. To that end, said Altshul, the center will be holding a gardening workshop series this fall and other free activities in coming months.

"We would love to share our knowledge and enthusiasm with everyone interested in learning how to grow their own food and make Ajo greener," said CSA founder Nina Altshul.

CBP seizes drugs twice at port, twice in desert

Local Customs & Border Protection officials were involved in two significant drug seizures at the Lukeville Port of Entry and two more in the desert recently.

On Friday, October 5, CBP officers working at the port of entry referred Dolores Flores Esquer, 43, for a secondary inspection of his 2005 Mazda. An x-ray device helped officers find nine packages of marijuana hidden in a cooler of fish. Flores, the 26 pounds of marijuana, and his vehicle were turned over to Pima County Sheriff's Department.

On Saturday, October 6, US Border Patrol agents working out of the Ajo Station used mobile surveillance equipment to observe a group of suspect smugglers just north of the border. When the agents arrived on scene they found 11 bundles of abandoned marijuana weighing 594 pounds.

On Sunday, October 7, local agents and a CBP helicopter responded to detection technology near Federal Route 1 on the west side of the Tohono O'odham Nation. Agents discovered an abandoned SUV containing 1,745 pounds of marijuana.

On Monday, October 8, officers at the port of entry referred Cha Hee Park, 48, for a secondary inspection of his 2009 Toyota Camry as he entered the US. Officers located two coolers in the vehicle's trunk, one containing crabs and the other clams. An x-ray device revealed abnormalities in the cooler holding the clams. Nine packages of marijuana were found in the walls of the cooler with a total weight of 25 pounds. Park was arrested and turned over to Immigration & Customs Enforcement for further investigation.

Record rainfall at Organ Pipe

Lee Baiza, superintendent at Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument, recently reported that 14 to 16 inches of rain fell on the monument in September alone.

To put this in perspective, Baiza explained that the normal annual total for the area is 8 to 9 inches, and the last several years it has been down around 7 inches.

As might be expected, all of this rainfall did not come without consequence. A number of roads were washed out and gullies widened considerably. Baiza said the intake side of several drainages was washed out wider than the bridge spanning the arroyo or the culvert behind it.

Organ Pipe officials are working on a long-term plan with Arizona Department of Transportation to address needed and future repairs. At the same time, he said, the walkway and lighting to the amphitheater are being renovated and three modular units – acquired from the former 55 Saguaro housing complex – are being set up as administrative offices, which will allow the reclaiming of three houses at the monument that were being used for that purpose.

While the Alamo Canyon Campground had been closed 3 days and the Ajo Mountain Loop Road more than two weeks due to storm damage, Baiza said he is happy to see them fully open and operational again.

St. Vincent's Thrift is back from break

The St. Vincent de Paul Thrift Store has reopened its Washington Avenue facility after being closed for most of the summer. Hours of operation are 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays.

One of Ajo's busiest weekends is coming up — the Red & White — and I'm already happily exhausted just thinking about all the things there will be to do and people to meet.

I hope to run into at least one friend I've never met. Mary Black has mailed me letters, sent some fantastic DVDs, put me in touch with her Texas moma, and posted regularly on my Facebook wall. Like a traditional friend, she has congratulated me on my good news, commiserated on the bad, and shared some achingly bad jokes. It will be interesting to see what she's like in person.

I'm sure there will be a few other cyber friends popping up at one event or another. And family, too. My son Gery and his girlfriend Deanna have promised to come down and help us man the Copper News booth at the Plaza on Saturday, though I'm not sure if they're actually coming to visit or if they are attracted by the promise of all those food booths.

Be sure to stop by and say hello if you're in the Plaza. And remember — I like my fry bread with honey and just a smidge of powered sugar.

AJO RED RAIDERS

SPORTS

Raiders' season ends in shut-out

By Robert Sorrels

Mesa Prep 62, Ajo 0

Ajo - in its worst football performance of the season - fell Thursday night. Sixth-ranked Mesa Prep utterly demolished the Raiders who suffered the only shutout of the year.

Coach Brian English with a sigh noted, "They completely dominated us. We never got across mid-field." English had praise for Jake Lopez in his final game as a Red Raider and noted "Abiam Campa had some success against the Mesa defense."

"The challenge of small towns playing private Valley schools that can recruit from all over Phoenix hasn't been addressed. The AIA has - so far - refused to make changes to increase competition."

A glance at AIA rankings shows 25 public and 10 private schools in Division VI. Currently 5 of the top 10 teams are private. The AIA in the 2nd year of "minimizing transportation costs" is using a "proprietary" (and secret) computerized ranking system "to balance uneven scheduling." Some tinkering is promised for next season, but a fundamental change in the system was rejected at the last statewide meeting.

Looking forward, English is positive. "We have 10 freshman who got quality playing time. Our junior high team is gaining experience. We are only losing 4 seniors, so we will be better."

Overall it was a disappointing season for the 1-7 Raiders. They played 4 top-ranked teams. In retrospect Ajo should have beaten Gila Bend but just didn't play well. The loss to Salt River was close and turned on Raider errors. If Ajo had a full team against Patagonia, the outcome might have been different. Clearly Raider teams need to build stronger, quicker defenses and execute the fundamentals so they create the opportunity to win.

RAIDER OF THE WEEK
By Robert Sorrels

Marissa Harris was honored for her play in several matches. A senior, she plays volleyball, basketball, and softball though she notes, "Softball is my absolute favorite."

Asked to name a memorable play, she responded, "Really it has been the whole season. Senior girls always want to end by going to state and we have a chance. We are really blessed!"

Marissa plays because "I like the excitement, the competition. It's a challenge. Of course it's really nice to win! And the other girls! They are great to be around." Before a match Marissa reminds herself to "Go hard or go home," and "Go out like you want it."

Beyond sports, Marissa is an AVID student, has taken AP classes, and was a Cinco de Mayo princess. She loves to "pitch in my backyard" and practice Folkloric dance. Marissa is interested in "my boyfriend, hot Cheetos - best breakfast ever!" She also thinks actor Channing Tatum is "so sexy."

After graduation, she plans on studying cosmetology and esthetics. Marissa's parents are Carlton & Marina Harris.

Lady Raiders drop 3rd straight

By Robert Sorrels
Tonopah 3, Ajo 0

Following a brilliant 10-0 run to open the volleyball season, Ajo was swept Tuesday for the third straight time by a Division IV team. The powerful Tonopah squad jumped to an 11-4 lead on strong service that included two aces. The Lady Raiders crept back trailing 8-15 when Tonopah reeled off 4 more. Ajo's only additional points came on defense as their service failed them falling 14-25.

In the 2nd set Ajo showed their true potential as they fought past game point before losing 24-26. The teams traded points and service until Marissa Harris ran 9 straight putting the Raiders up 14-8. Tonopah refused to quit and kept chipping away. Leading 23-21, the Lady Raiders needed only 2 points to win but faulted opening the door. Ajo won only 1 point on the next 5 serves and lost.

In the 3rd, the Raiders came apart as Tonopah put on a service clinic. They scored 7 straight to put them up 7-1. The Ladies had failed to score across 3 servers when Tonopah's 5th player went on a 14 point run. The Tonopah server repeatedly exploited the right side as Ajo did not adjust to pinpoint service on the line. The Raiders were unable to adapt by attacking the service and went down 25-6.

For the match, Ajo had 2 aces, one by Harris and the other by Cinnamon Robles as Audrey Gilmartin recorded the only kill. At this point, Ajo is ranked 18th which puts them just below the "bubble" for the state tournament. To make it, the Lady Raiders must win their remaining matches and get some help from teams above losing.
