

Anjel Kanan poses with a scarecrow in the Hall of Horrors which is put on by the Young Adults of Ajo. The Hall of Horrors started Friday, October 26, and continued Saturday, October 27. The last night will be on Halloween, Wednesday, October 31, from 7-9 p.m. There is a small fright fee.

Next Tuesday is election day; early voting is under way

Many Ajo area voters have already mailed in their vote-by-mail ballots, some are taking advantage of early voting at the public voting, and traditionalists will be arriving at polling places next Tuesday to cast their votes.

Vote-by-mail

Deadline for the vote-by-mail ballot is 7 p.m. on Election Day, November 6. It is recommended the ballots be mailed at least three business days in advance to make sure they arrive in Tucson on time.

According to Pima County Recorder F. Ann Rodriguez, of the 498,343 registered voters in the county, 306,997 vote-by-mail ballots were sent to voters as of October 25. The last day to request a mail-in ballot was October 26. Over 120,000 ballots have been returned.

Early voting

Early voting is now under way at the Salazar-Ajo Branch Library. It opened Monday and will close Friday, November 2. Its hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Rodriguez says more than 1600 voters have cast their ballots at the many early voting sites through the county.

Election Day voting

On Election Day, polls will be open in Ajo in the social hall of the Ajo Federated Church, 101 Lomita. Why voters may cast their ballots at the Why Community Building, 341 S. Sonoita Way. Polls are open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. on November 6.

Election results

Polls will still be open as the Ajo Copper News goes to press next week. Metropolitan newspaper and electronic media will offer extensive coverage of the major races. There are no local races on the ballot. Results can also be found online at www.pima.gov/elections/results

Jewelry heisted at Green Dragon

Don Driver's Green Dragon Variety Store on North Second Avenue was the scene of a break-in and jewelry heist on Friday, October 19, apparently sometime in the wee hours of the morning, according to Driver.

A slender window near the parking area was smashed to make access. Stolen were between $3600 and $4500 in retail value of jewelry, a Nikon Cool Pix S8000 camera, $100 in cash, and miscellaneous scrap silver and gold. In addition, Driver noted, repairs of the property damage at the break-in site will amount to several hundred dollars.

The day before the break-in, Driver said he saw two young men entering the store. One of them had been selling one or two pieces of jewelry to Driver on a daily basis for more than a month. As the familiar young man began walking out, Driver said he noticed the other young man walking away from the slender window to join his partner, but thought nothing of it at the time. Since the night of the break-in, Driver has seen neither of the young men. He said he found that rather odd since one of them had been coming in every day for at least four weeks.

"I would be fairly convinced that a person who does something like this and gets away with it would be strongly encouraged in their spirit to do it again," said Driver. "The thief had to have had intimate knowledge of where this stuff was located in the store. Nothing else was disturbed. The young man I was dealing with regularly did in fact know where those items were in the store." Driver added that deputies are using physical evidence recovered at the scene to pursue an investigation.

Lt. BJ Clements, commander of the Pima County Sheriff's Department Ajo District, confirmed that deputies are following up on some leads in the case. He said there have been other recent burglaries that are being investigated, but no other jewelry heists.

"As always, if anyone has any information reference these crimes or any other crime, they should contact the Pima County Sheriff's Department Ajo District office or 88-CRIME," said Clements.

Ambulance, fire score wins in PCWIN radio process

Two Ajo agencies recently got some good news after a long wait. Ajo Ambulance and the Ajo/Gibson Volunteer Fire Department learned that funding for the acquisition of radios will be covered by the same bond issue that is financing the Pima County Wireless Interoperability Network (PCWIN).

The idea behind the network is that it is designed to provide county emergency agencies with the capability to communicate with each other in real-time. PCWIN was originally funded through a $91 million voter-approved county bond issue in 2004, with a $10.5 million federal grant. Until two weeks ago, the language in that issue referred specifically to 20 fire districts, 11 police agencies, and the Pima County Office of Emergency Management and Homeland Security.

While the AGVFD was named as a specific agency, it questioned its own capacity to come up with the funding necessary to obtain radio equipment and maintain it. Additionally, though it was named in the group of fire districts, it isn't a fire district as the others on the list were.

Ajo Ambulance had not been included at all in the proposal, nor had it the capacity to cover the anticipated $174,000 in costs it would incur in buying radios and ancillary equipment if it decided to opt in to the program.

But the bond language was amended earlier this month, substituting the words "public and non-profit" for the previously enumerated entities. This allowed both local agencies to qualify. It also helped address similar problems in the metro Tucson area.

"It offers us the opportunity to participate while saving us around $174,000," said Lonnie Guthrie, Ajo Ambulance service director. "We think maintenance costs will be about $15,000 a year." Dan Morales, administrative liaison at Ajo Ambulance, added that the savings works out to the cost of two ambulances, and has enabled the ordering of 25 mobile radio units and 19 portables. "That's very good news for us," said Morales.

AGVFD's Chief David Tibbitt is also pleased. "We were planning to order just one handheld radio, but this permits us to get free equipment and, hopefully, get maintenance of $7000 a year waived. We're now able to order 15 handhelds, four mobiles, and a station control unit."

All three agree that these changes and the opportunity for Ajo to partner in this project would not have happened without one person in particular.

"If it hadn't been for Sharon Bronson, this wouldn't have happened," said Guthrie. "She kept going after the need for us to be involved." The county supervisor's work with Captain Paul Wilson, PCWIN project sponsor, was termed critical.

Morales noted that there are still hurdles ahead.

"The paging out issue has yet to be resolved. The PCWIN system doesn't address that. Some agencies – Marana, the Northwest Fire District – have said they will continue to use their legacy (existing) systems," said Morales. "We communicate with the US Border Patrol, the National Park Service, and the Tohono O'odham Nation, but at some point the central communications hub will be in Tucson and the central system – PCWIN – doesn't have the capacity to do these page-outs."

Page-outs are the calls that go out to various agencies once the communication center has been notified of an incident.

Morales added that the TO Nation has not at this point come to agreement with PCWIN on a number of issues, including the location of a radio tower on the nation's land.

Tibbitt agreed that the fact that there is no repeater tower planned for continuation in Ajo is likely to become a problem. "How we will get paged out is key," he said.

Efforts to reach PCWIN's Wilson for additional comment were unsuccessful by presstime. The Ajo Copper News will continue to report on this story.

Halloween parade is Wednesday in the Plaza

The annual Halloween parade of costumes will be held at the Plaza this Wednesday starting at 4:45 p.m., according to Luisa Williams of the Xi Gamma Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. They hope to see all of Ajo's goblins and spooks show off their costumes. They will be handing out treat bags to the participants.

Children from a few months old to young teens traditionally show off their Halloween garb at the parade before heading off on their trick-or-treat quests.

Cleanup, dogs on WPCCC agenda

The November 2012 meeting of the Western Pima County Community Council will take place Thursday, November 1, at Bud Walker Park at 7 p.m.

This month's agenda will focus on community issues including ongoing post-storm cleanup, barking and loose-dog concerns, and sidewalk maintenance. Deb Miller of Supervisor Sharon Bronson's office will update the meeting on discussions regarding the 2nd Avenue bridge, and other county issues. Miller will also be available for individual meetings an hour before the WPCCC meeting begins.

The agenda will also include an update on activities at the Ajo Unified School District, as well as those by representatives from local law-enforcement agencies.

There will be the customary call to the floor for issues to be raised, and an opportunity to mention upcoming community events.

WPCCC will hold elections for representatives from odd-numbered districts – 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, and 11 – in December, with nominations to be made in November. Information about the process will be available at the meeting.

WPCCC meetings are open to the public.

Ajo woman arrested with guns, ammo heading into Mexico

Monica Parra, 41, of Ajo, was arrested September 29 as she drove her red Chevy pickup toward the border gate at Papago Farms in the southwest corner of the Tohono O'odham Nation.

US Border Patrol agents patrolling the area pulled Parra over and noticed a gap in the pickup bed that had been filled in with Bondo and fresh paint. During the wait for a CBP canine, Parra reportedly became nervous and asked what types of things a canine can detect.

The dog soon alerted to the pickup and agents dug out several packages inside the hidden compartment under the truck bed. Discovered were an AK-47 assault rifle with 30,000 rounds of 7.62mm ammo, an AR-15 assault rifle with 20,000 rounds of .223-caliber ammo, a Glock 9mm pistol with 3,000 rounds of ammo, a Smith & Wesson revolver with 3,500 rounds of .38-caliber ammo, two rifles with scopes, one additional scope, and a rifle bipod.

The gate at Papago Farms is not an official port of entry but is open to members of the Tohono O'odham Nation, who reside on both sides of the US-Mexico border.

Parra reportedly told agents she had been paid $1,000 to drive the truck over the border. She claimed she had no knowledge of the firearms and ammunition. She was booked and released from jail after putting down a $10,000 bond. Parra was later indicted by a federal grand jury on smuggling goods out of the US.

In other CBP news, on Saturday, October 20, USBP agents assigned to the Ajo Station apprehended a 52-year-old Mexican male for illegal entry. A record check revealed the subject had been convicted in 1995 for continuous sexual abuse of a child in Kern County, California, and was sentenced to 16 years in prison. Following federal prosecution, the man will be processed for removal from the US.

On Monday, October 22, CBP officers working at the Lukeville Port of Entry referred a 29-year-old Phoenix woman for a secondary inspection of her rental vehicle as she entered the US from Mexico. Officers located 128 pounds of marijuana hidden in the vehicle.

On Tuesday, October 23, a 64-year-old Mexican national was referred for inspection of his Ford SUV at the Lukeville port. Officers found 169 pounds of marijuana in the tailgate, back seat, and cargo bed areas.

On Wednesday, October 24, a 46-year-old Mexican national with a Phoenix address was referred for inspection of her GMC SUV. Officers found 55 pounds of marijuana in the spare tire.

On Thursday, October 25, a 23-year-old Tucson man was referred for inspection of his Mitsubishi. Officers found 118 pounds of marijuana hidden throughout the vehicle.

Commenting on the four recent drug and vehicle seizures, acting port director Bonnie Arellano said, "This is a fantastic example of the officers' diligence. We may be a small port, but we are big in results."

With the approaching All Souls Day holiday, CBP officials are advising the traveling public that certain agricultural items used in holiday decorations are prohibited from entry to the US. A common type of ornamental greenery known as murraya or orange jasmine is often used in the construction of commemorative altars, and may be a host plant for the Asian citrus psyllid, an insect that can carry citrus greening disease. Many citrus and tropical fruits are also prohibited and may result in fines if not declared at the port of entry.

On Wednesday, October 24, participants learned about Dia de los Muertos and decorated calaveras (sugar skulls) with frosting and glitter. The program, which was part of Nuestras Raices, commemorated the Mexican holiday, a celebration of Mexican-American authors, arts and culture. Many kids and adults participated in decorating the sugar skulls. Three ladies who were diligently decorating skulls were, from left, Lupe Owensby, Delia Wilkinson, and Jan Ducic.

Ajo Garden Club will meet Monday

The Ajo Garden Club will meet on Monday, November 5, at 10 a.m. in the public library.

Nominations for the 2013 officers will be accepted during the business meeting. The next clean-up date will be set as part of the group's monthly Ajo beautification project.

The speaker will be Kathleen Stevens from the Ajo Community Garden Consortium. She will give a brief presentation on Making Your Landscape Work for You.

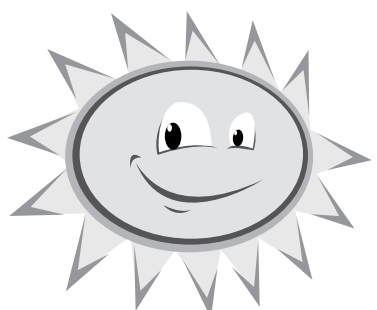

Visitors and new members are always welcome.

For more information contact June Nickell at 387-6122.

Spanish classtarted at the library

On Wednesday, October 24, a few students learned a bit of Spanish from Stella Peterson who presented the class through a web-based program which uses a conversational software program called Mango Languages.

The Spanish class is held on Mondays, 5-6 p.m., and on Wednesdays from 3:30-5 p.m. This class is free, and languages such as Latin and German are also offered.

Chip seal project delayed until spring

With an inquiry from Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument officials into the status of the Highway 85 chip seal project, a report came from the Tucson ADOT office that plans have been put on hold.

ADOT spokesperson C.T. Revere explained to Organ Pipe staffers that the chip seal crew had run short of days warm enough to complete the job this fall. Revere assured that the work would resume in the spring, probably in March.

According to chip seal websites, road patching should be done at least six months prior to chip sealing, and crack sealing at least three months prior. When applying a chip seal product that uses asphalt cements, ambient air temperatures need to be at least 70°F.

Cemetery cleanup to be educational

The community cleanup planned for Wednesday afternoon, November 7, at the Ajo Cemetery is being looked at as an educational event, according to organizers.

"It's not just about pulling weeds," said Debbie Morrow of the Ajo Cemetery Association. "We're hoping to teach the younger generations to respect the cemetery, to visit the gravesites of grandparents and great grandparents on a regular basis, and while there to pick up old flowers and decorations and maintain the sites in general."

Members of local veterans organizations will be on hand with small American flags for youth to put at the gravesites of those who served in the military. Local Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops, GED students, and other groups will be there to help volunteers from the community. Everyone is encouraged to attend. Cool drinking water will be available, along with a dump truck from the county.

The cleanup is scheduled for 2 to 5 p.m. on November 7, an early release day from school.

Author series starting soon at public library

A new season of the Friends of the Ajo Library author lecture series is starting soon.

"This season promises to be quite entertaining," says Carolee Kohn. "We have two mysteries from two authors: one is a fictional story, the other is true crime; then we switch to some light-hearted fare: the adventures in hang-gliding and a musical narration about birds; then a love story with a time-travel twist set against 18th and 20th century Britain, and finally back to where historic farms and ranches are located in southern Arizona."

The series starts on November 17 and continues through March. Currently scheduled are:

Saturday, November 17, 1 p.m.

Clark Lohr, author, Devil's Kitchen

Saturday, December 15, 1 p.m.

John Q. Olson, author, Tales from the Wild Blue Yonder

Saturday, January 12, 1 p.m.

Deanne Stillman, author, Desert Reckoning: A Town Sheriff, A Mojave Hermit, and the Biggest Manhunt in Modern California History

Saturday, February 9, 1 p.m.

Diana Gabaldon - Outlander series

Wednesday, February 27, 1 p.m.

Jeni Foster, musician, Bird-Song

Saturday, March 16, 1 p.m.

Lili DeBarbieri, author, A Guide to Southern Arizona's Historic Farms and Ranches: Rustic Southwest Retreats

"Put these dates on your calendar," said Kohn. "We hope to see you there."

When Catholic Daughters State Regent Susan Moné came to Ajo for officer installation she brought her aunt, Sister Miriam Richards. Sister Richards taught 6th grade at the Ajo Catholic School in 1969 and 1970 and has fond memories of Ajo. She is presently living in Pennsylvania.

Belia Espinoza has been named Woodmen of the World 2012 Fraternalist of the Year. She was recognized and given a plaque by Arizona fraternal coordinator Joe LaValley at the annual fraternal alliance banquet in Glendale. The event was attended by other award winners and featured Representative Rick Gray as guest speaker.

LaValley noted that Espinoza has been a Woodmen of the World member for thirty years. She has taken part in many membership drives, promoted youth camp, and traveled to many cities. She is a director of the state organization and has held all lodge offices and many on the jurisdictional level as well. "Belia, as president, is a catalyst for Lodge #93 and keeps it active," said LaValley. "In fact, without Belia there might not even be an Ajo lodge. She is always willing to help her peers and the community in general. She loves to talk about Woodmen every chance she gets."

Espinoza is also with the auxiliaries of the VFW and the American Legion.

Young kittens belong with mom

Some Ajo families are faced with tragedy after adopting cute kittens and then having their new furry companions become ill and, in some cases, die because the kittens weren't eating.

The cause? It wasn't a virus. The kittens were adopted when they were just three weeks old — too young to be weaned. Kittens that young not only need their mother's milk, they also don't swallow well enough to handle more solid foods, and may not tolerate cow's milk. Kittens orphaned at an early age should be fed a cat-milk substitute such as KMR.

Kittens and puppies should not be weaned until they are six weeks old and are usually healthier if they remain with their mothers for the first eight weeks of their lives.

On September 11th, my dear husband, Bob, fell outside of the Ajo Post Office and broke his left femur. He was embarrassed and felt terrible to cause such a stir. Through his anguish he was totally amazed at the immediate outreach of so many wonderful people who were there to lend a hand and say comforting words to ensure his safety. Your generous kindness provided him the peace to endure what must be done to heal from his wound.

We feel humbled to be surrounded by this loving and caring community. We want to express our heartfelt gratitude to the Ajo Sheriff's personnel, and everyone who came rushing to Bob's side. We are also blessed by our many friends, who frequently call, drop by, offer help and to just be with us.

I am delighted to report Bob is doing very well but it will take time. However, it didn't hold us back from enjoying all of the great festivities of the past weekend. It was great fun and we enjoyed meeting new and old friends.

We love Ajo are proud to call it our home! Thank you one and all... and remember, "Keep a smile on your face and in your heart!"

With our warmest regards,
Bob and Jan Thomas

David Laskiewicz (sitting) and Billy Ray Lane are bringing a little music to Ajo nights. Jewel Clearwater, who took this picture says, "If you come down to the Plaza in the early evenings, you're likely to hear some wonderful singing and fancy guitar playing. David says he's doing what he can to improve Ajo's infrastructure. You'll have to ask him what that means. We're just glad to have what's been missing these lovely warm Ajo evenings — some wonderful live music."

Letter to the editor
"Well done, ISDA" says reader

Editor:
 I just returned from the Red & White Celebration at the Plaza. I enjoyed watching native Ajoites, and transplants, like myself, laughing, reminiscing and beaming with pride and spirit. As I sat on one of the many new benches enjoying a carne asada taco, I thought to myself, "This must have been what it looked like back in the day when the Plaza was booming- when Ajo was in its prime."

I've read negative letters to the editor and heard talk that some long-standing community members are angry at ISDA for making too many changes. Generations of families have lived and died here, and it's natural to feel a bit of resentment when new people come in and want to change things. I think I can relate. Back home in Indiana, all the "fields I used to roam" have been gobbled up by housing developments, planned communities, and strip malls. The old dirt roads of my barefoot youth have been paved. Cornfields have been replaced by gated communities. These intruders have no idea how beautiful the old wood forests used to be before money hungry developers littered the area with McMansions. The new people don't realize or even care how heartbroken I am that my local creek is gone, replaced by cement sewer ducts. The old red barns whose haylofts I jumped out of as a crazy kid have long-since been demolished. When the development began in the mid 1980s, I used to go around and knock down for sale signs in protest; It was important for these strangers to know that the country side I loved and saw as my own turf would not go down without a fight. Sure, It was illogical and pointless, but I felt the need to do it anyway.

Consequently, I can relate to their sense of ownership and to their protectiveness of Ajo. However, my empathy abruptly stops there. I've tried but cannot think of any way ISDA has mistreated Ajo. Native townspeople are losing nothing and gaining everything. Unlike my Indiana home, Ajo's beloved treasures have been rescued and rejuvenated. Sacred landmarks have been saved for generations to come. If this were my hometown, I would feel grateful and blessed. ISDA has succeeded in bringing spirit and life back to a wounded town. In doing so, they have been cautious and have tread lightly, anticipating people's sensitivities to change. ISDA banded together with generations of families to heal the shattered spirit of what was Mexican and Indian town. The heart of this community, the Curley school, has been treated with the tenderness and care it deserves. Countless citizens, both old and young, have been empowered with jobs and GEDs and a collective sense of self worth thanks to ISDA programs. And now, the Plaza is being managed just as carefully. During this whole process, there have been meetings and workshops and planning sessions specifically designed to gather input from ALL Ajo community members.

So, I just don't understand why ISDA is "getting heat." Despite their critics, I would like to propose a standing ovation to Tracy Taft and all the ISDA people who have worked tirelessly for years to bring nothing but good things to Ajo. As I sit typing, memories of 1998 are flooding back from my days as the Roots Raices Ta:ak Youth Group coordinator. ISDA was in its infancy, a one-room office where the laughter of kids echoed through the halls of a lonely, sad and forgotten old school. Boy, oh boy, look at it now! Well done, ISDA!

Catherine Ecker

Letter to the editor
Pull, don't jump

Editor:
 There are folks in Ajo who are quick to jump down ISDA's throat over any perceived fault concerning the Plaza or Curley School. If those people would use that energy to help out instead of criticize, I'm sure everyone would appreciate it. The Plaza, due to a faulty sprinkler system which ISDA is trying to fix, has a weed problem right now. If we locals who have enjoyed the Plaza for free for all these years would go down there and pull a few weeds and throw them in the barrels, it would help make Ajo a better place to live.

Public library has wide variety of activities

The library has many ongoing programs, which include Stay and Play on Wednesdays at 9 a.m., bilingual family storytime on Thursdays at 10:30 a.m., and after-school homework help Mondays through Thursdays.

November will open a new art exhibit by Rich Downing. Images of Mexico, where Downing lived for 2½ years, are his main focus, and the rest are pictures across the US of plants, people and walls. The exhibit opening reception will be Friday, November 2, at 3:30 p.m.

On Wednesday, November 7, at 3:30 p.m., participants will create a nearika (yarn painting), which are popular among the Huichol people who live in west-central Mexico. This program is part of Nuestras Raices, a celebration of Mexican-American authors, arts and culture. Register at the library or by calling 387-6075.

More information about library activities can be found in the library's ad elsewhere in this issue.

Seniors go out as winners

By Robert Sorrels

Ajo 3, Tohono O'odham 1

Senior night and the final volleyball game, Ajo broke a 6-match losing streak beating the Warriors on October 22. In the 1st game, the Raiders were sleep-walking while the Warriors raced ahead. Ajo's defense was uncoordinated. They either fought for the ball or failed to respond to service. The crowd went quiet, as all feared another game like the last six. Trailing 7-19, Ajo woke up and stormed back on strong service and 5 hard kills. The gap was too much with TO winning 26-24.

In the 2nd, the Lady Raiders came alive serving 11 aces without error. Leboria Lopez had 4 while Marissa Harris and Mariah Gilmartin each recorded 3. The Raiders won easily, 25-16. The 3rd was tighter. TO adjusted its defense and the Raiders had more service errors. Still 9 kills including 3 by Hannah Lynn kept the Warriors at bay as Ajo won 25-19.

The 4th set was intense as Tohono O'odham fought for another victory. TO held a tight 17-15 lead when Lindsey Leon rolled off 4 straight. After the exchange, Harris added 2 more including an ace and the Raider defense held. Lynn served the winner for a 25-22 victory.

The Lady Raiders end the season with an official record of 11-6 that is solid yet disappointing. There were two Raider volleyball teams in 2012. The first was a brilliant group that ran off 10 straight victories showing fire and excellent communication. The second went 1-6 as dissension among some of the players broke the magic, and Ajo stumbled through a 6-game losing streak. Three of those games were definitely winnable: Santa Cruz Valley which the Raiders had already beaten in an incredible 3-2 match in Eloy, Antelope Union when Ajo clearly had the momentum going into the tie breaker but lost, and finally the inexcusable lack of effort displayed by some in the loss to Gila Bend, a team Ajo owned in their first meeting.

If the Lady Raiders had not allowed personalities to interfere, they likely would be 14-3 and on their way to state. An ancient yet utterly true aphorism in athletics notes, "There is no 'I' in team." Perhaps future Lady Raiders will learn this lesson and go further.

Ajo Community Golf Course GOLF

By Colleen King

We were off and golfing for a busy week here at the club.

It started with Monday Evening Skins. Six skins were taken that night. First was 3 taken by Greg Burton on # 2, 4, and 6. Second was Frank Milene with 2 skins on #'s 1 and 8, followed by Ted Acker with 1 on # 9.

Tuesday morning Men's League showed an amazing turnout for so early in the season (approximately 20 avid golfers). First place was taken by Mike Zozaya, with Dick Gates coming in second and Greg Burton coming close with third. Dick Gates had a chip-in on 3, and Bill Connolly a chip-in on 14. A great start for the year.

Pro-Am had its first game of the season on Friday evening. 15 players hit the fairways. Bill King's team of Gerry Holm, Bud Turner, Frank Milene, and Colleen King took 1st place with a 4. Second was the team led by Dick Gates including Elaine and Harley Murray, Ted Acker, and Jesus Luna.

The rest of the week is filled with golfers who come out to enjoy our course and who just drop in to say "hello" and that their back again safely for another season.

It is just so great to join all the players in the club house lounge after these events and chew over the games, laugh at the bad drives and puts, and comment on the great ones.

We will be in full swing this coming week with Monday Skins at 3 p.m., Tuesday Men's League at 9 a.m., Wednesday Couples at 3 p.m., and Pro-Am on Friday at 3 p.m.

Any ladies that would like to golf on Thursday at 9AM ... come on out and we'll get our league started!

We would like to extend our sincere apology to any of our guests that drove out to have breakfast or lunch of Saturday or Sunday. Due to an unforeseen situation with the water in Ajo, the supply to the club was shut off on Friday and will remain so until Tuesday. I truly appreciate Diane Acker for all the extra help she gave me during this time.

Do come out to our club and enjoy all the great golf we have to offer and join us in our lounge and restaurant 7 days a week.

The Ghoulish Witch of Ocotillo Avenue has once again arisen from the earth to greet costume-bedecked Wednesday night wanderers during their quests for treats.

Brat and brew connoisseurs Wendee Cloutier, Frank Hinman, Rene Cloutier, and Marlene Hinman were a few of those on hand at the VFW's Octoberfest celebration last Saturday. In the background, Mundo Garcia worked the grill while Karen Gonzalez served as deejay.

Recently installed VFW commander Carl Beatty said the brats and pulled pork sandwiches were a hit at the second annual Octoberfest and the group is looking forward to next year's event.

Forms available

The Ajo Copper News has developed forms for items such as births, obituaries, engagements, weddings, and graduations. The staff then writes the article using the information listed on the form. They encourage the use of these forms because important information is less likely to be left out.

Other people prefer to try their hand at writing. These pieces are edited to fit standard newspaper format and style.

Forms may be picked up at the newspaper office at 10 Pajaro; requested by writing to the Ajo Copper News, PO Box 39, Ajo, AZ 85321; or requested by e-mail to cunews@cunews.info online.

Halloween candles

From jack-o-lanterns to harvest displays, candles play a big part in Halloween decorations. They also pose a safety hazard. Burning candles should be kept where pets and young children won't be able to knock them down. Lit candles should not be left unattended or positioned near curtains or drapes.

Tips for having a safe Halloween

Halloween should be spooky and scary and safe. Here are some safety tips.

Remove or move lawn furniture or other obstacles from near the home's entry to avoid accidents or damage.

Prevent fires by making sure pumpkins containing candles are placed at a distance from children's costumes. Extinguish candles before going to bed and use battery-operated lights when possible.

Be sure all disguises are made from flame-resistant materials, aren't too long, and don't contain sharp accessories. Avoid masks that may obscure vision and use hypoallergenic make-up instead.

Send trick-or-treaters and adult chaperones out with flashlights and apply light-reflecting material to costumes.

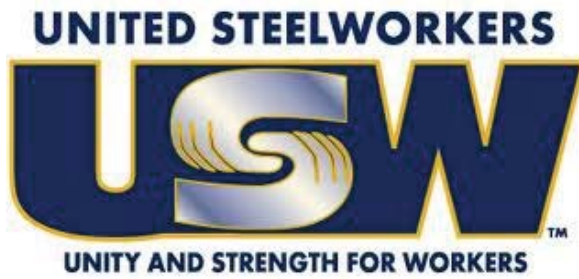

Drive sober, slowly, and even more carefully than usual on Halloween. Watch for children who may be running or wearing dark costumes.

Travel in groups and cross streets only at corners and crosswalks. Stay on well-lit streets.

Scare away potential property vandals by keeping outdoor lights on.

Keep pets inside. Warn children to stay away from animals as they visit neighborhood homes. Don't feed pets chocolate no matter how much they beg.

Inspect all treats and never allow children to eat unwrapped items. Throw away any suspicious-looking goodies.

Installation of the replacement water tank serving the Ajo Domestic Water Improvement District, formerly known as the Five Acres Water Company, should be completed in the next two weeks, according to Doyle Ivey. The 125,000-gallon, 26-foot-tall tank will serve between 140 and 150 residences when up and running.

The Kitchen Garden

Celebrating the growing of food in Ajo, as well as the community spirit behind it all.

Hello, Ajo! This is a new column in the Copper News to chat about gardening. We will share some gardening tips, a few recipes, and tell you why we are so happy growing vegetables and fruits in the desert.

For example, right now we are planting some of our winter crops. Yes, in October we are planting things like carrots, onions, peas, greens, and beets. Many of our beet seedlings have already sprouted and we are putting more seeds in the missing gaps.

Of course before we begin planting in a particular bed, we know that we must turn over the soil, digging deep and adding good compost and manure. Luckily we have been saving as much of our organic vegetable scraps as we can.

Saving kitchen scraps is getting so addictive that I can't even throw the cooked veggie water down the drain. It all goes into my compost pot or into the garden.

Back to beets. In June we harvested some beautiful bright red Ajo beets, and Regina Browne canned some pickled beets for us. I begged Regina for her recipe: 2 parts white vinegar, 1 part water, 1/2 part white sugar (or more if you like it a bit sweeter), 1 large teaspoon salt. Boil this mixture, pour over cooked beets, and store in glass or plastic containers in the refrigerator up to 4 months. This liquid mixture can also be used for refrigerator pickles (cucumbers and onions) with the addition of dill, mustard seed, celery seed, or pickling spices, as you wish.

A hint on cooking beets: if you boil the entire beet for 10-20 minutes until tender, and then plunge them in cold water for a while, the skins will peel right off in your hands.

I can hardly wait until our next crop of beets will be harvested. Would you believe that as a little girl I absolutely hated them?

This first column closes with the age-old definition of gardeners — people who are outstanding in their field!

Workers put the finishing touches on freshly poured concrete around manhole covers in the new asphalt behind the Plaza. Smooth, black streets are gradually taking the place of the potholed and cracked roadways that were patched after utility line upgrades crossed their paths.

Demolition and remodeling work on the historic Depot in the Plaza is well under way, with the north side arches being opened up to restore the original open-air waiting area. Crews are working at the other end of the building to even up the floor levels. Project supervisor Kirk Havermahl of G&G Construction said work is going smoothly.

Letter from the publisher Red & White

Readers:
Bonds of family in friendship run deep in people from Ajo. There are many Ajo families that still call themselves Ajoites even after 40 or 50 years away from Ajo.
The Ajo Red and White Reunion was a great success. It gives us an opportunity to renew friendships and see family. It's good for the spirit of our community.
It is also a shot in the arm to our town's economy. I can't speak for other businesses and organizations, but I can report the Ajo Copper News enjoyed some extra business generated by the Red and White.
On the Facebook AjoMundo page, John Peters reported "Our first year, we did really well, and were able to donate $1500 back to the community. Last year, we donated $1000. This year, we came up short $200 of our expenses of $3800, so we lost money."
The Curley Auditorium Friday night mixer and the Macambo Saturday dance were the Red and White's revenue stream. I believe if more people had known this, they would have at least stopped by the Mocambo even if it was in their plans to celebrate at the Hut, ChuChu or Elks.
It's in the best interest of our community (not to mention our own self-interest) for the Ajo businesses and organizations to pitch in and make sure the Red and White at least breaks even.
H.J. "Hop" David

Former Ajo resident Randy Hammonds has again garnered world championship titles in arm wrestling. He competed in the World Amateur Arm Wrestling Championship in Buena Park, California, in a three-day event that drew over 80,000 spectators. Entered in the right-hand, left-hand, and team events, he took first overall, going undefeated, in right-hand competition, second in the left-hand event, and first overall in the team event.
He is the son of Ken & Fay Hammonds of Ajo, who say they congratulate Randy, his teammates, and all the competitors for a job well done.
