

Jeanette Martinez was pleased with the sales action last Thursday at Family Dollar, and Carol Klinefelter reported customers were waiting in line on Black Friday.

'Black Friday' is mixed bag for local businesses

CNN reported Monday that while there was a nationwide 3.5% increase in foot traffic on Black Friday, retail sales actually dropped by nearly 2% to $11.2 billion. The figures were gloomier in the West: foot traffic actually dropped 11% against the 2011 figure.

Locally, both K-5 and Olsens reported good turnout for the traditional day of savings, as did the Copper News Book Store.

"Business was great and exceeded our expectations on both the grocery and the hardware sides," said store manager Maribel Reyes. "The advertising is very effective."

Carol Klinefelter said that although K-5's business wasn't as big as it has been in past years, "still, it was real decent. We had people waiting for us to open Friday morning."

"We sold a lot of books on Friday," said Dick Ducic, manager of the bookstore. "It was a big day for us." Ducic, like Reyes and Klinefelter, said that advertising played a big part.

As with many other retailers, both Family Dollar and Dollar General focused efforts on Thanksgiving Day sales. While a Dollar General spokesman said there was no real uptick in business, Jeanette Martinez at Family Dollar reported that a lot of toys, Christmas decorations, and sale items were sold. Other local retailers reported either normal sales or a decrease. — many local businesses were closed for Thanksgiving and some were closed on both Thursday and Friday, putting time with family ahead of profit margins.

In its reporting, Reuters said that on-line Black Friday sales increased 26% from last year's figure, and that as a result of stores beginning sales the day before, there was a 21% increase in the number of people visiting stores in person or on-line Thanksgiving Day.

Reuters also reported that on-line sales for "Cyber Monday" were expected to top $1.5 billion.

Last week for WPCCC nominations

Qualifications should include education, work experience or any previous community involvement, and a paragraph on the goals envisioned for western Pima County.

These two mobile homes have been parked on the North Street side of the Cabeza Prieta National Wildlife Refuge administrative area for some time, and are now being prepped and readied for occupancy. Refuge manager Sid Slone said that the housing, obtained for free from the General Services Administration, will be used for interns and other staff who have had to rent accommodations. "It will help conserve on expenses, and if we don't need them, they can be pulled out," said Slone. The staff now includes three interns, one who is shared with Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument, and has had as many as six interns in the past.

The tour will end with a garden party and light refreshments at the Loma Bonita garden on Esperanza Avenue near Sahuaro Road.

In its Curley Courtyard Garden project, the Ajo CSA noted that the garden has now been planted with the help of staff, the Get Going Get Growing youth program, and many volunteers. A variety of winter vegetables and a green-manure cover crop were planted, the latter to develop a local sustainable methodology to be shared with other gardeners.

Charmaine Beharie is the new fifth- and sixth-grade reading, language arts, and social studies teacher at Ajo Unified School District.

She is certified to teach elementary, upper elementary and special education. She attended East London High School, obtained a higher education diploma with distinction in English in 1994 from the Transvaal College of Education in Pretoria, South Africa, and has enrolled in the University of Phoenix for a master's degree in education for English as a second language.

Her teaching experience began in 1995 in Boksburg, South Africa. From 2001 to 2007 she taught in North Carolina, and from 2007 to the end of last school year in Maryland.

"We are suffocating our planet Earth and my wish is to inspire my students to save the environment," she said. She added that she became a teacher because her father, a retired superintendent of education, loved to serve the people, which inspired her to do the same.

Beharie says she loves the surroundings, sunsets, mountains, festivals, and people of Ajo.

She enjoys cooking for her family, travel, zip-lining, four-wheelers, and hang gliding, and she says she looks forward to para-sailing in Puerto Peñasco. Her husband, Kiran, also teaches at AUSD. Their children, Shale, 14, and Sashin, 11, attend public school in Ajo.

Kiran Beharie is the new fourth- and fifth-grade math and science teacher at Ajo Unified School District. He is also the local PTSA secretary.

He attended school in Springs, South Africa, in 1990 and obtained a higher education diploma in 1994 from Transvaal College of Education in Pretoria, South Africa. He obtained a master's in education in 2010, graduating summa cum laude from the University of Phoenix.

His teaching experience began in 1995 in South Africa. From 2001 to 2007 he taught in North Carolina, where he was a Local Advisor of the Year and a finalist for Teacher of the Year. From 2007 to the end of last school year he taught in Maryland.

"I would love to see all my students succeed and for them to believe that their learning is the key to their future," he said. He added that he left law school to become a teacher because he found he loves what he does and the students' "aha" moment is his greatest reward.

He says he loves the celebratory mood that surrounds the community of Ajo during football season, fall harvest, Peace Day, and other events. He said that the students in his classes here are the best kids he has had the pleasure to work with in the 20 years he has been in education.

In his spare time he loves to fish, collect coins, and be a dad and husband. His wife, Charmaine, is also a teacher at AUSD and their two children attend school in Ajo.

There's still time to donate to the school

Tax credit donations to the local Arizona school district directly benefit the students in the school, benefitting the school, the students, and the donors who get a tax credit on their Arizona state income tax.

People who file a single tax return may donate $200 to the school district. Those who file a joint return may donate $400 to the district.

Tax credit donations may be used by the school for costs associated with extracurricular student activities. This means that funds may be used to defray expenses students incur for after school athletic activities, club activities, or student government activities. The donor may designate the activity for which the funds are donated, or they may let the district leadership use the funds for what they deem the greatest need.

Tax credit donations may be mailed to:

Ajo Unified School District
Superintendent's Office
P. O. Box 68
Ajo, AZ 85321.

To receive tax credit for the 2012 tax year, envelopes must be postmarked by December 31, 2012.

Tax credit donations may also be delivered to the Ajo district office at 111 N. Well Road by December 21, 2012.

Water less often to prepare plants for frosty nights

Most landscape plants, and especially those that are frost-sensitive, need to be "hardened off" before freezing night-time temperatures make an appearance. By irrigating less often this time of year, plants will stop expending energy to produce new leaves and will instead store up energy in their root systems to get through winter dormancy, or semi-dormancy in most winters in the low desert.

Using the recommended 1-2-3 ratio for irrigating landscape plants, December and January are the number 3 in the ratio. This means, high-water-use plants such as established citrus that were watered every week in the summer and every 2 weeks in spring and fall may now be watered every 3 weeks. Continue watering the same amount each time – the root zone has not shrunk in size – just do it less often.

Keeping the same ratio, low-water-use plants that are watered every 3 weeks in summer and every 6 weeks in spring and fall may now be watered every 9 weeks, or once during the two coldest months of winter. Low-water-use plants include young native trees, cape honeysuckle, oleander, Arizona yellow bells, young bougainvillea, and a plethora of others.

Now is also a good time to gather up old sheets and blankets to cover plants before a frost is forecast. Trunks of very young trees may be wrapped with newspaper or a commercial tree wrap for the winter season.

Veterans are to be recognized this Sunday

The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will honor three veterans on December 2 with an event that will include a potluck. Being recognized for their service to their country will be Charles Tapp, Louie Ramirez, and Bobby Trujillo.

Those attending are invited to bring a potluck dish but Bryan Blow, chair of the Legion honor committee, says bringing food is not necessary to attend.

"This will be about our 10th ceremony honoring veterans of Ajo who have served their county in time of need," Blow said. "We hope you set aside one hour on Sunday, December 2, at 2 p.m. and show your appreciation."

Girls and boys drop openers

by Robert Sorrels

The Red Raiders opened their basketball season, Monday, November 19, against Division III Tonopah. Ajo is a Division IV team, and Tonopah's enrollment is 3-4 times that of Ajo. The boys lost 78-11 while the girls had a closer game, losing 48-19.

Tonopah's much taller and more athletic lineup dominated the boards often getting 3 or 4 offensive rebounds on a missed shot. Without the ability to rebound, Ajo couldn't get its fast break offense going. Also, the excellent Tonopah squad proved difficult to guard and negated much of Ajo's man-to-man defense. While Coach English recognizes the Raider squad has much to learn, getting beaten by 60+ points makes it hard to see improvement.

The Lady Raiders did slightly better, though they still received a 30-point spanking. On occasion, the Ladies were able to run Coach Harvey's "motion offense" with some success. Still the end result demonstrated how thoroughly Tonopah dominated the game. The shorter Lady Raiders were not able to rebound effectively.

Why the AIA (Arizona Interscholastic Association) continues to insist that small Division IV teams must play much larger schools continues to be a hotly debated topic, but there is little sign of change on the part of the AIA.

The Raiders play rival Gila Bend away on Tuesday, November 27 and Division III opponent Eloy on Wednesday, November 28.

The twelve days of Christmas begin on December 25 and continue through January 6.

Taking decorations and trees down before January 6 is said, by some, to bring bad luck.

PCNRPR sports awards were given

On November 20, the volleyball and flag football teams were presented trophies and certificates by PCNRPR staff for participating in the sports program, boys and girls ages 7 to 13. "Good attendance and support by parents and family were evident by all the food brought in and all chairs occupied in the building," said Lucila Malvido.

Coaches Sal Mancilla, Lucila Malvido, and Lisa Orosco praised their individual teams for a job well-done. Ajo Youth Sports provided the trophies.

All meals provided with milk and fruit.

Ajo Community Golf Course GOLF

By Liz Baca

Famous golfer Ben Crenshaw once said, "My golf game's off so much that when I went fishing a week ago my first cast missed the lake." That about sums up my game lately, because I haven't been out much, but one of the great things about the game of golf is no one has to see those shanked shots because you don't always need other people to play the game. If your golf buddies are too busy, too tired or disgusted with their own game, you can always venture out alone when the course is not very busy. After all, we are really playing against the course anyway and sometimes it's just easier to concentrate on our own shots without the distraction of other players close by.

Bill Conley and Marty McCrystal were the only two out of eleven men who made skins in last Monday's Skins game. Conley took one on hole #9 and McCrystal on #7.

Meanwhile, back at the clubhouse, Marty regaled the men with tales from his latest crazy adventure. Seems he has been monkeying around on a wild African safari running with wild zebras, chasing gazelles, talking back to parrots, and riding elephants! I was told it was a scene right out of National Geographic.

Tuesday, November 20, the Men's Club had seventeen players on the course with Dick Gates and Paul Barnhart both leading the field on the front nine, each with a score of 64. Dick Gates birdied the right handicap hole for the top spot while Tony McGarry shot a 68 for third place. Three gents had their game spot on as well, as they all made chip-ins. Bill Conley sunk two chip-in shots on #3 and #11; Paul Barnhart made one on hole #1 and Mike Zozaya dropped one on #11.

Eleven couples enjoyed each other's company Wednesday, November 21, in their weekly competition. The top four places included Bill and Paula Doremus with a 28.2; Bud and Fran Turner scored a close second with 28.8, Frank Milene and Carol Peek came in with a 30.6, and Joe and Bea Trueba carded a 31.0.

The Friday Pro-Am on November 23 was played on the front nine with a good turnout of 29 players. There was a tie for first place at three under par but the team led by Bill Doremus prevailed on the tie-breaking holes. Playing with Bill were Bob Glodowski, George Steckel, Joe Gonzales, and Bea Trueba. Also at three under for second place was the team of Captain Bill Browne, Bud Turner, Barb Martin, and Binx Hoyem. Captain Greg Burton led his team to a third place finish with two under. He had help from Ernie Ochoa, Marlene McCrystal, and Norma Steckel.

Whether you are up to playing with friends in the weekly games at the Ajo course or just want to play a few quiet holes by yourself, the course is in fantastic shape right now, the weather is perfect for golf and the clubhouse bar and restaurant are now open late afternoons and evenings. Please see our ad elsewhere in this issue. For more information on the goings on out at the golf course, membership pricing, or the new menus and service hours call: 387-5011 or visit our website at ajogolf.com.

Pet-proofing tips for the holidays

Pima Animal Care Center provides tips for a safe holiday season for pets.

Poinsettias and mistletoe can spell gastrointestinal problems for pets. PACC suggests using artificial plants or keeping live plants out of reach of household pets.

Water for a live Christmas tree can contain bacteria or chemicals, so make sure pets stay away from the tree stand. Pets will explore new items in the house, so be sure the tree is secure enough that it won't fall and cause injury.

Cats may play with or eat tinsel, so avoid its use. Keep bulbs and other decorations high enough so pets won't be able to chew or swallow them. Keep lighted candles out of reach.

Avoid giving pets foods not on their regular diet, including left-over bones. Keep trash bags out of reach.

Rather than risk injury to pets underfoot or bothered by noise of guests, provide pets with a space of their own, complete with plenty of water.

GED students Ryan Miguel and Edith Rios spent part of an afternoon last week sweeping debris along the Plaza esplanade into a dustpan wielded by their supervisor, Sylvia Tatman-Burruss. Not pictured are classmates Tony Soto and Anthony Garcia.

"We all understand that how we look on the outside communicates something to others about how we are on the inside," said Tatman-Burruss. "That is one of the lessons conveyed in the new work-study option in the Las Artes GED program at the International Sonoran Desert Alliance. Students learn skills by practicing them through real and meaningful work in the Ajo community."

GED students are primarily helping with the maintenance of the Plaza, giving the area some attention above and beyond the diligent work of the regular maintenance staff, Santos Espinoza-Carranza and Aurora Landon, along with Friends of the Plaza volunteers.

Rios said she is learning practical work skills as well as the importance of issues such as being on time, being efficient, and conducting herself properly in a public setting. "We're helping out the community and at the same time we're learning how to work as a team," she said.

As a large space that is a major focal point for community members and for visitors, the Plaza work-study option fits well in the Las Artes GED plan, noted Tatman-Burruss. She said students are paid to work from 3 to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday after their academic learning hours. Volunteers are welcome to join the GED work crew at any time, she said, and words of encouragement reinforce the importance of the students' work as members of the community.

Now that we're going digital, I have to put in a good ten hours or so working on Saturday and Sunday. Some work I can do at home while watching NCIS or Law & Order marathons. Other chores have to be done at the office.

If I come in on a Saturday afternoon, my brother Hop usually enlists my help folding the Catholic Church bulletins. You'd think that would make me avoid Saturday afternoon and the extra workload, but I don't, and it's not because I am a kind, caring person or trying to earn a few stars in my crown. I do it for the jokes.

Every week, Father Peter includes his jokes of the week, which he garners from all over. A week or so ago, it was —

A Sunday school teacher asked his class, "If I sold my house and my car, had a big garage sale and gave all my money to the church, would that get me into Heaven?"

"No!" the children all answered.

"If I cleaned the church every day, mowed the yard, and kept everything neat and tidy, would that get me into Heaven?"

Again, the answer was, "No!" Again the teacher asked, "Well, then, if I were kind to animals and gave candy to all the children, and loved my wife, would that get me into Heaven?"

Again, they all answered, "No!"

"Well then how can I get into Heaven?"

A five-year-old boy shouted out, "You gotta be dead!"

A laugh and Brownie points — now if Hop would just bring brownies.
